A JOURNEY WE JUST DON'T HAVE A MAP FOR...

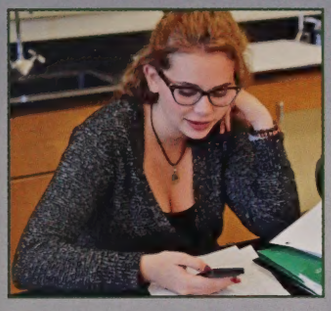

...but we don't need one anyway.

From here on out, the Class of 2018 will travel through this world using our own intuition. As we leave Agawam in the rearview and venture into the world, we'll be faced with many different paths. These journeys are individualized, however, and we will all come to a route that best suits our individuality. We'll encounter many sights on the way - eccentric and extraordinary, make friends with strangers, experience the wonders life has to offer, and we can thank these defining years of our lives for paving the way for us to become the people we will grow into on the way. Our past becomes the foundation for our future.

For this year's yearbook theme, the staff chose to capture the aesthetic of a cross-country roadtrip to symbolize the never-ending journey that is life, and the nostalgia we experience when taking a look over our shoulders to see what we have left behind. We wanted to encourage the appreciation of not only what is to come, but also what was and what is. Even as we travel onward and outward, we carry our histories along with us. The years we spend in high school account for some of the most formative experience we have as young adults, years we believe should be appreciative of, including all the good, all the bad, and all the strange. While approaching the end of the first leg of our journey, the yearbook staff would like to thank each and every student of Agawam High that made our time here more exciting and more unique than we ever could have imagined.We would also like to express our gratitude toward all staff and faculty that work tirelessly to help and grow the people in their lives.

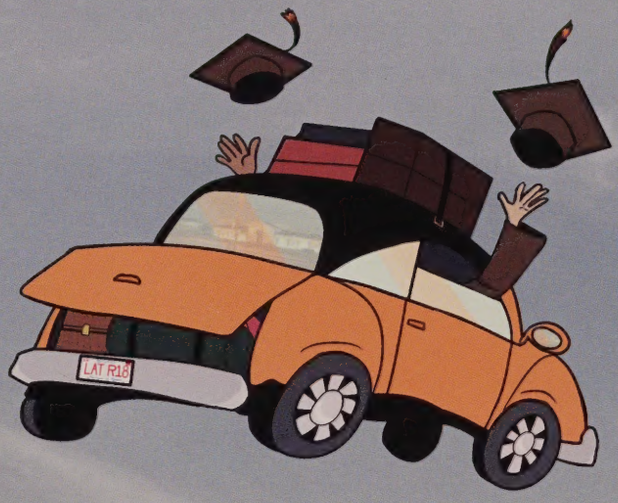

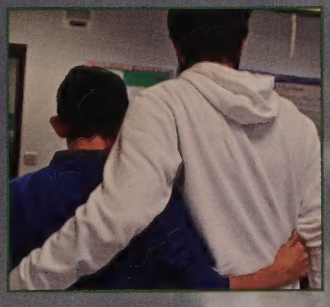

Here's to the Class of 2018!

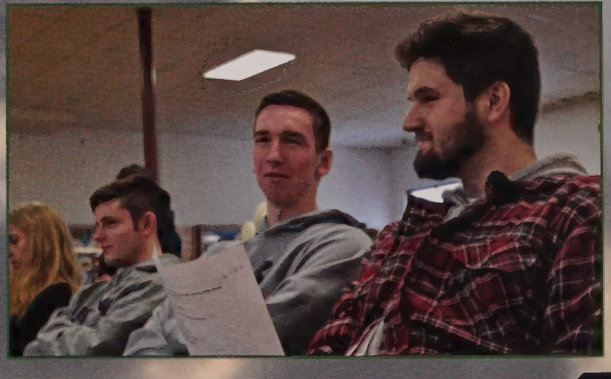

Keep in pursuit of your goals and we hope you see all the success you deserve!

Faculty...

The Agawam High School staff strives for perfection every day in and out of the class, preparing lessons and giving us the knowledge we will use for years to come. To them, we say thank you. Without these educators and mentors, we wouldn't be where we are today. Thank you for being such great teachers, exemplary role models, and caring people. Thank you for sharing your knowledge and enduring impression you've made in the lives you have touched. Every community needs people like you, and Agawam High School is fortunate to have the most exemplary staff. This book is not only for us students, it's for you. The Classes of 2018, 2019, 2020, and 2021 appreciate you and all your hard work. Thank you!

As one journey ends, another begins...

Mr. William Fontaine

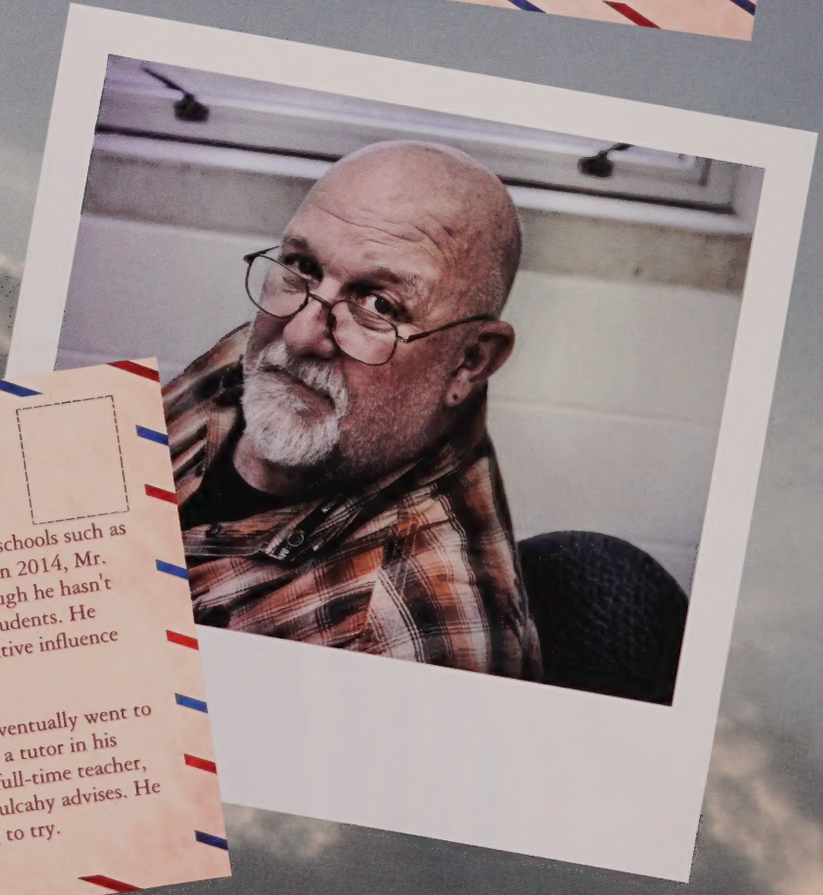

Postcard

After over two decades of working in private sector as a human resources manager, Mr. Fontaine decided that it was time for a change. Mr. Fontaine joined the Agawam High School team 14 years ago in order to pursue his lifelong interest in biology. His passion for both science and his students is apparent as soon as you step into one of his classes. Mr. Fontaine is an engaging and approachable teacher who takes pride in the success of his pupils, and has changed many young lives for the better, inspiring a new generation of scientists to pursue their interests in college.

Mr. Fontaine says that he'll miss the students most of all, and hopes to leave them with this message: "The teaching will end at some point, but the learning never does. Maintain your curiosity about the world around you and strive to find new interests to explore." And, in fact, Mr. Fontaine intends to start another career after he retires, "just for fun!"

Mr. John Mulcahy

Postcard

For 23 years, Mr. Mulcahy has worked as an educator at various high schools such as Pioneer Regional, Franklin County Technical, and Springfield High. In 2014, Mr. Mulcahy began teaching mathematics at Agawam High School. Though he hasn't been here long, he can already anticipates how much he'll miss the students. He always loves when past students come back to thank him for his positive influence on their lives.

Before he was a teacher, Mr. Mulcahy worked in the military. He eventually went to college to be a computer programmer at the age of 39 and became a tutor in his school's computer lab. The students encouraged him to become a full-time teacher, and the rest is history. "It's never too late to go to college," Mr. Mulcahy advises. He is living proof that a higher education is for anyone who is willing to try.

OLD NAVY

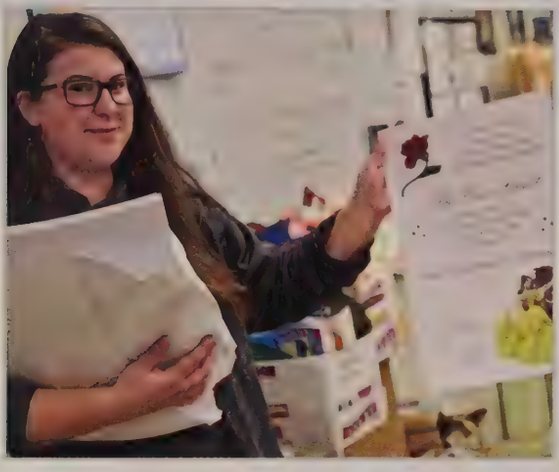

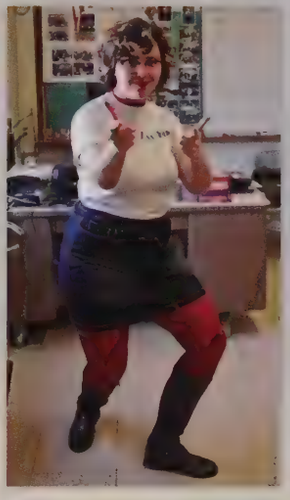

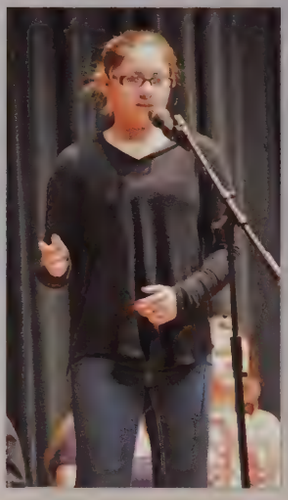

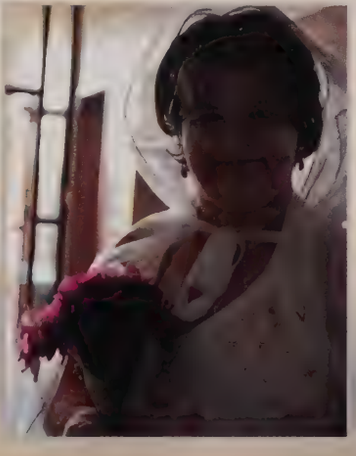

BEGINS

Getting out the maps...

Freshman year is the first stop on our journey through high school. From here, every traveler has endless routes they can choose to follow--but it's too early to be thinking of the future just yet, save that for Junior year! There's more pressing matters to worry about, such as: "Why is room 8 next to room 45? What bus do I get on? Are the Seniors REALLY gonna throw batteries at us at Pep Rally?!"

While Freshman year has no shortage of awkwardness or anxiety, it is simultaneously overflowing with the excitement. New people, new opportunities, and a newfound sense of freedom. Every Freshman ends the year as a new person, and that person will venture through the rest of high school based off of the foundation they laid as "Freshmeat."

Planning the route...

Sophomores Class of 2020

The transition from being a 9th grader to a 10th grader is immediate. When Sophomores push open those glass entrance doors yet again after summer vacation draws to a close, it's like a switch is flipped in their brains. Now that they've become familiarized with the high school lifestyle, they walk with more confidence in their step, finally feeling like they can keep up with the school's rhythm.

While the end of the journey is in sight, the destination still feels like a long trek away, and so it's best to get through the long haul with great friends and great ambitions to keep one inspired and motivated. Until they finally reach Senior year, Sophomores stay satisfied with the pit-stops along the way--like finally wrapping up MCAS once and for all!

Bags are packed...

Juniors have earned their wings, and now they get to soar with the eagles. Most will make the argument that Junior year is the most important of the four years we spend at the Agawam High School, and that assertion is not unfounded--it is Junior year transcripts that colleges really look at, after all! So, you'll see plenty of Juniors load up their schedules with AP classes, scramble to join as many clubs as they can, and crack down on getting volunteer hours for their NHS application.

With new horizons lying just beyond, it's easy to get antsy anticipating the Grand Finale. However, knowing that they can't speed up time, Juniors enjoy the ride, spending it making memories that will last them for the rest of their lives.

The sun is coming out...

After a long, dreary winter, there's no greater greeting than the coming of Spring: when the sun lingers a little longer every day, the birds return from their seasonal vacation, and the flowers come out of hiding. So, obviously, this all means that it's the perfect time of year for testing! The MCAS, SAT, ACT, AP Exams (both for practice and for real), and Finals. Luckily, to keep everyone's moods balanced, Springtime at Agawam High School has plenty of "pit-stops" where we can turn away the textbooks for a bit and have some fun in the (occasional) sun. Sports, Arts, and, of COURSE, the annual Prom are enough to keep us going until Summer Vacation.

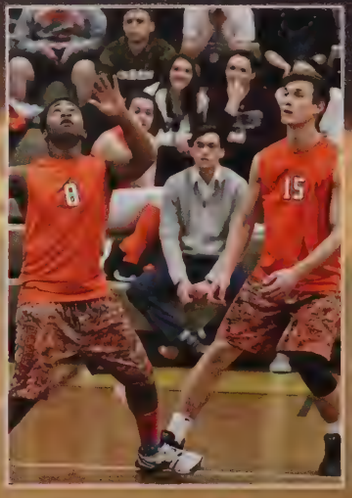

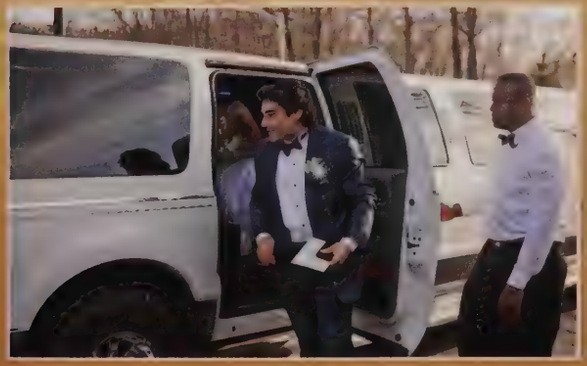

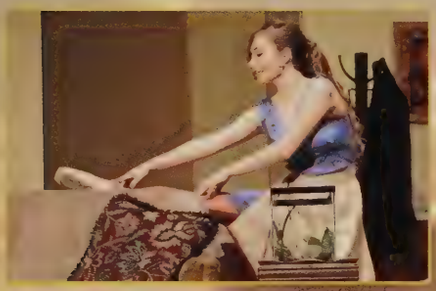

"You Can't Take It With You"

Getting into character in the "Green Room."

"Peel Banana... Peel-Peel Banana!"

The year was 1936, and tucked away in a little house in the Big Apple was the Vanderhof family. Alice Sycamore has fallen madly in love with Tony Kirby, the wealthy son of Anthony and Miriam Kirby. The Kirbys are corporate high-ups, graduates of prestigious universities, and socialites in the city scene.

The Vanderhofs are...not. The mother of the house is a writer of erotic melodramas and her husband Paul is a tinkerer, and amateur fireworks manufacturer. Her sister Essie is an amateur ballerina receiving dance lessons from a Soviet-escapee dance instructor named Kolenkhov. The patriarch of the family, Martin Vanderhof, gave up a job on Wall Street (and paying taxes) in lieu of attending commencement ceremonies. They're a little odd, to say the least. Shenanigans ensue when the two clans collide at the Vanderhof's dinner party. Were they able to reconcile their differences and see eye-to-eye, or was young love torn apart by the culture clash! If you were lucky enough to catch either of the two performances, you got to find out firsthand!

"A toast to another great performance!"

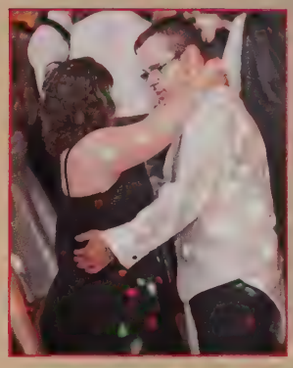

A Passport to Paris

Grooving on the dance floor.

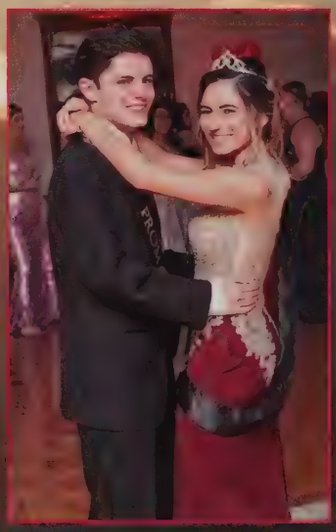

Bonjour, mon amour - for this year's prom, we decided to travel! On Friday April 28, 2017, Agawam High School went to Paris. Our theme, A Passport to Paris, was just as perfect and romantic as it sounds. The beautiful yet simple decorations in the dining hall and on the dance floor created an outstanding atmosphere for everybody who attended. The sprawling hills, subtle twinkles of house lights below, and the maroon sunset ensured that the backdrop for everyone's prom photoshoots would be la crème de la crème.

The food was, as always fantastic, and the DJ always knew what song to put on to get everyone up and dancing. Prom is one of the most memorable moments of any high schoolers, and a special time that everyone looks forward to. The day that they finally step into the elegant Log Cabin is never a let down thanks to Mr. Trahan and the Prom Committee. Each prom is better than the last, and is something that will be kept in our memories forever. À l'année prochaine!

Ben Vyce and Rachel Florence were crowned Prince and Princess!

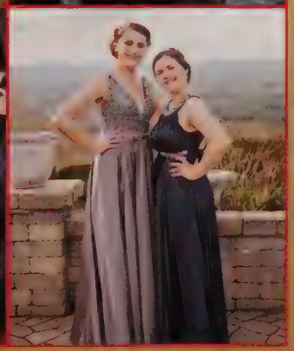

The view outside of the Log Cabin is worth the ticket price alone.

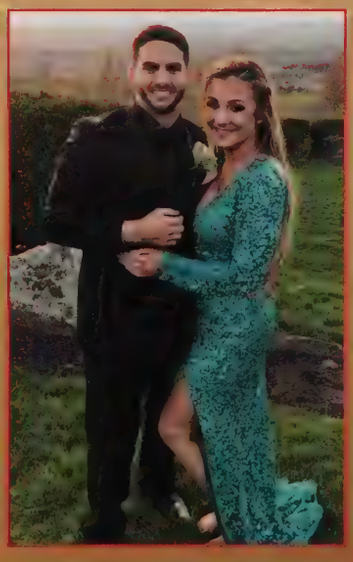

The King and Queen bust a move!

A rainy day in March. Agawam was pitted up against Westfield, the number one team in the league. The game was shortened to a mere five innings, and both teams were tied 4-4 as they entered into the bottom of the fifth. In an exhilarating turn of events for the Brownies, Aiden Paige and Chris Morassi made their way around the bases securing the last two winning points for the team while the Westfield Bombers slipped and slid around in the wet mud. For many of the Agawam boys, this game held their proudest moments of the season.

The Brownies may not have made it to the playoffs but, considering they were only one win away from doing so, it's evident that they put their all of their heart and soul into the season. Most of the team, Mathew O'Keefe explains, has been playing together since Little League, and everyone is bonded together as true friends. Even when they're not at their near-nightly practices, the boys are spending time together--most notably at Hooters every Thursday night for team-building (not school affiliated, of course)! The chemistry on the field is authentic, which is the key to success in a sport like baseball.

As with every season preceding it, the Agawam Boys' Lacrosse team worked relentlessly in the spring to achieve the best possible version of themselves that they could. Pre-season practices, rigorous morning and Sunday sessions, on top of everyday practices after school: by the time the season kicked off, the boys were raring to go, eager to tear up the new turf field.

Having lost several key players to graduation, the remaining team members carried the burden of filling their shoes. In the end, the exact quantity of "wins" and "losses" was irrelevant--their camaraderie and teamwork made it so that they always walked off the field winners. The team is looking forward to the 2018 season and hopefully, with all their hard work, claiming the top spot.

In the Spring of 2016, the Agawam Girls' Lacrosse team ended with an evenly-matched season. However, in the Spring of 2017, the girls demolished their competition, ending with a record of 14-3 and entering into playoffs. Algonquin just barely got the better of them and claimed victory in the playoffs, but the loss has only motivated the girls to work even harder in the 2018 season.

What's the secret to their success? Good old-fashioned team spirit! The girls were never satisfied with mediocrity, they hungered for greatness, and so they all motivated each other to push the boundaries of their abilities and keep growing as players. On top of that, their chemistry and sincere love for the sport made the games genuinely fun to play, which certainly doesn't hurt their performances on the field, either!

It may have seemed like an omen when the Agawam Girls' Softball started their season with a disastrous loss to Minnechaug, but the tides of fate quickly changed when a mere four days later they annihilated Amherst with a score of 22-6. After that, the team had win after win. Amazingly, they beat the Westside softball team both times that they went toe-to-toe with them, a feat that Agawam hasn't been able to achieve in years. Even their occasional losses saw terrific moments, such as when recent graduates Sierra Kruser and Katie Grasso both hit home-runs during their game against East Longmeadow.

The current seniors, now carrying the torch sparked in the 2017 season, hope to carry the girls to States one last time before leaving high school. The team shares a strong sense of pride over their ability to endure and conquer regardless of conflict, and with this pride comes a confidence that they will once again succeed in 2018.

There are pros and cons to having such a small team for the Varsity Boys' Tennis season. A small team, which resulted due to the majority of the male tennis players graduating the year prior, meant that all the spots on the court were rarely filled up, which put the team at a disadvantage. However, the size of the team also allowed for the boys to bond. The friendships forged on the court would prove to be their strongest asset in matches, paired with great leadership from the seniors, captains, and their beloved coach.

The tennis team was well rounded, with each player adding something great to the group dynamic. However, with sparse practices due to irregular snowfall late into spring, the season proved a particularly challenging one. No matter, though, they kept their heads held high and gave it their all right up until the end. While they did not progress to finals in 2017, the team hopes to make it all the way in this upcoming season.

Gotta go fast!

The Agawam Girls' Tennis team shined bright on the brand new tennis courts during their 2017 season, with a final record of 10-9. It wasn't all smooth-sailing, however- they were pitted against a myriad of talented schools that they'd lost to in previous seasons. The pressure was on. The girls practiced every day after school (and the occasional Saturday!) for hours in order to perfect their techniques, many even staying long after the practices technically ended to keep working. As the team started to collect wins, they began a countdown to keep track of the number of victories needed to make it to Western Mass. "Before every match, Coach Corbin would motivate us to play our hardest to get another game closer to Western Mass," Senior Katelyn Poirier explained, "The bond we all share with Coach Corbin and each other is our team's strongest asset by far."

In the end, the hours of hard work that the girls poured into the sport paid off. They not only made it to Western Mass like they'd hoped, but they came out on top over Amherst, one of the teams they'd lost to previously. An invigorating game to end an exciting season is perfectly fitting for a team as filled with energy as the Varsity Girls' Tennis players.

The season began with myriad of new, determined individuals ready to give their all to the Boys' Track and Field team, as well as the returning varsity players. The captains sparked a fire in the hearts of their teammates, inspiring everyone to grow and improve as athletes, as well as internalize the spirit of hard work. As with all sports, though, team-building was crucial. The boys leaped at every bonding opportunity that cropped up. Their pasta parties in particular were friendly, fun atmospheres to drum up their camaraderie.

Their season may not have gone as well as they had hoped, but it was not for lack of trying. Every single member of the team deeply invested themselves into performing well at their meets, and showed clear improvement throughout the course of the season. Overall, the team was brimming with mutual support and respect, unyielding determination, and persistence.

Agawam Girls' Track and Field team may not have had the season they were counting on, but they could always count on each other. Tremendous support for each other set the tone for every meet, and every girl brought with them tremendous amounts of sportsmanship to offer both towards each other and their opponents. The highly competitive nature of the sport acts as the primary driving factor to propel the girls towards hopefully breaking school records and leaving their mark on (local) history.

Every single day, these girls practiced for long hours after school to improve their skills and bolster their scores at future meets. Their excellent coaching staff constantly pushed for them to work harder, do better, and strive for personal records. Head coach, Daniel Pryce, states that for the 2018 season, he would "...put out the best team possible, put every athlete in a position to succeed, and hopefully win Western Mass."

The Agawam Boys' Varsity Volleyball squad was pitted against Ludlow on their home court early into their season. Like many of the games that would follow, they dominated the court and walked off as the winners. Joe Hendrickson says of that game, "The team really came together and learned as a family." This bond--this brotherhood--would carry the team all the way to the Western Mass Finals with a stellar record of 12-6.

Their excellent teamwork and communication skills on top of their strength and determination made them a nearly unstoppable force (and very exciting to watch)! The impeccable coordination of their team was built upon friendships built and maintained not just off the court, but even during the off-seasons. On top of that, the squad received an abundance of positive reinforcement, encouragement, and daily support from their captains. Every team member was able to show up to each game knowing that, no matter what happened, they had the unbridled support of their teammates.

Adventure Club

Adventure Club is a club made for exactly what it sounds like: adventures! Whether they're just going for a walk or even scaling a mountain, these explorers are always on top of the world. Many students love this club because they get a chance to get out and do something active with a great group of students. This club also allows students to step out of their comfort zone, try new things, and really push their limits.

With the Adventure Club, you never experience the same adventure twice. From indoor rock climbing, to nature hikes up Mt. Tom and zip lining through the treetops, the Adventure Club loves to keep it fresh. With the help of their outstanding advisers, Mrs. Taglieri and Mrs. Schlaffer, the club never excludes any students so even if you did not start the club right away, anyone is allowed to tag along on the next adventure. They hope to see you on their next adventure to wherever it may be!

Art Club

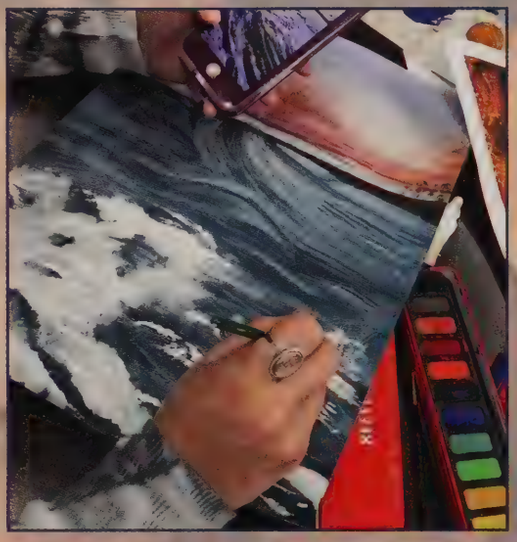

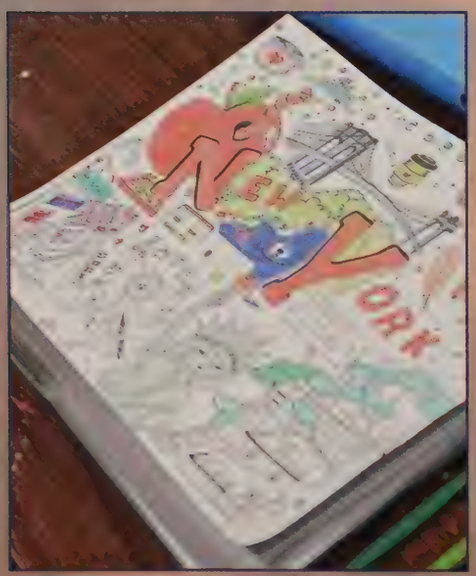

Amanda Thomas reinventing Cinderella's famous glass slipper.

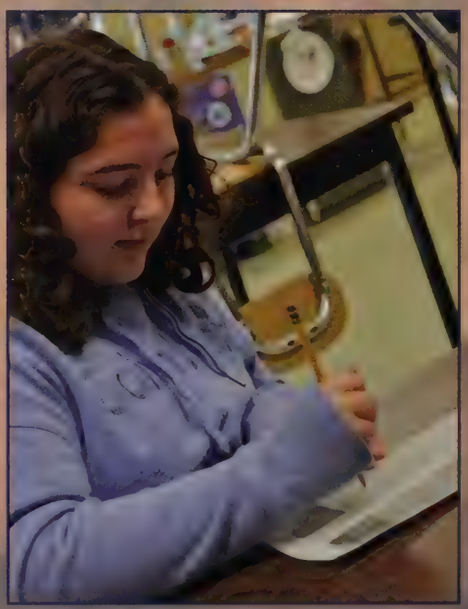

Art Club is the best way for the many talented students of AHS to show off their skills. In this club, students are encouraged to let their imaginations take over and bring their ideas to life with paints, pens, and clay. The magic happens every Wednesday after school across both art rooms with Ms. Waters, Mrs. Florek, or Mrs. DeCaro, who play tunes and chat with students as they work. The art department is very welcoming to new artists to come and hone their skills, even if they've never taken an art class before. In a judgment-free zone such as this, there's no such thing as competition, only collaboration! Don't worry about not having supplies--the art department is generous enough to offer all the tools an artist's heart could ever desire. All one needs to join the Art Club is an idea and the drive to make it a reality!

As Schools Match Wits

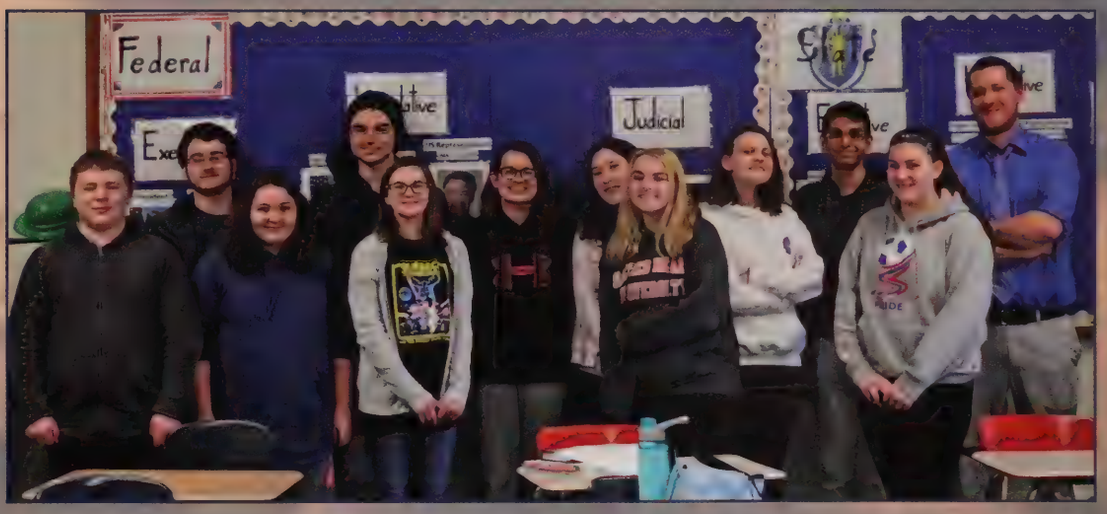

Quick! Who wrote Crime and Punishment? Did the Battle of the Bulge take place before or after 1942? Who was the last man to walk on the moon--CAREFUL! For the competitors of the As Schools Match Wits team, these questions are no brainers! As Schools Match Wits is a PBS-hosted high school trivia game show that Agawam High has been competing in for half a century. A select few of the club members are filmed competing with other schools on television to see who can wrack up the most points. The "TV Team" members this year were Diana Kulmizev, Khush Patel, Mia DePalma, and Gwendolyn Payne. For years, the team has just barely missed out the Top 8 ranking--missing that magic "200" by only a handful of points. However, this year, for the team for the first time since Mr. Ireland has taken the team under his wing, the TV Team made it into the quarterfinals with a score of 265-70 against Tantasqua High School! The clubs' camaraderie is what brings them to success, and together they will keep learning and growing. Onward and upward!

and Turn Up the Bass

The three groups Belle Tones, Turn Up the Bass, and Ear Candy all have one thing in common--a passion for vocal performance! Whether it is a group of girls, boys, or jumble of both, they all work in harmony to belt out the perfect notes. This year they stole the show at Agawam High's Winter Arts Festival. Wherever they are, their adviser Ms. Funk says all three groups display immense effort while keeping it lighthearted and fun! The members expressed how lucky they feel to be in a school where they have the ability to sing in diverse groups. They are each joined together by an individual passion for singing and making music that everyone can enjoy!

Best Buddies

Best Buddies is part of an international organization that works to create one-to-one friendships, opportunities, and leadership skills for people with disabilities. Honestly, is there anything more valuable in the world than a good friend? The bonds forged in Best Buddies are strong enough to last a lifetime! These Buddies meet frequently both in and outside of school to engage in fun activities together such as Halloween pumpkin decorating, pajama parties, Zumba, and karaoke nights! If the Best Buddies are involved in it, you can rest assured that no matter what it is they're doing, it's going to be a blast. Through and through, since its inception just a few years ago, Best Buddies has done wonders to make the school both a more inclusive community, as well as a more joyous one.

The game of chess is a mental workout of the best kind, and nobody knows this like the Chess Club. Chess is completely based on one's strategic ability to see your and your opponent's moves in advance. With the help of professional chess player Joe Linares, the members are taught proactive, reactive, aggressive, and defensive strategies. The club as a whole is pretty laid back. However, it does hold an annual Agawam Chess Championship which is open to anyone. The competition is fierce, and has been dominated by Zhihong Luo for the past three years. His successor will have big shoes to fill after his graduation this year. Mr. Ireland and Joe Linares also hold high hopes for the future of the club, mainly in the form of creating a chess league which would encompass various school levels and other public school systems within the Pioneer Valley. Mr. Ireland and Joe Linares look forward to the evolution from Chess Club to an official Chess Team.

Where there is a will, there is a way.

"In this club, we lift each other up- each other's legs, that is."

The Empowerment Club is a forward-thinking club comprised of progressive students who focus on dismantling social constraints and empowering impoverished or discriminated peoples. When natural disaster strikes the USA, you'll find members of the Empowerment Club walking around the lunch-room, collecting donations for charities that support disaster relief efforts. On the Eve of Black History Month, the Empowerment Club was gathered in the rotunda preparing a "Time-line Showcase" that cast a spotlight on to some of the most influential African-Americans in history. In the aftermath of the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School shooting in Parkland, Florida, where 17 innocent students and staff members lost their lives, the Empowerment Club participated in the National Walkout on March 14th. As well as working to bring awareness to injustices that involve class, gender, and sexuality, the club serves to provide a safe and open environment to have thought provoking conversation about society and modern culture.

Members stand proudly with their Black History Month showcase.

Fandom Club

Experienced players will play with a new player open handed with all cards showing and offering advice on plays.

Newsies take the stage!

Fandom Club is a place for you to enjoy the things you do with others who have the same interests. These Fandom members are interested in learning and enjoying your hobbies as much as sharing their own passions. The club is completely open to anyone to come and enjoy participating in activities, discussions, and even presentations given by volunteers! These presentations have introduced newcomers to topics like musicals (including two of the most popular Broadway shows at the moment, Hamilton and Dear Evan Hanson), video game series like Fire Emblem, Anime series like Sword Art Online, comic superpowers like the Marvel Cinematic Universe, fantasy card games such as Magic: The Gathering, and SO much more! This highly unique club accepts all and can find something to enjoy in just about anything. You don't even have to know anything about Fandoms to come join the fun and have a good time!

Foreign Language Club

Ciao! ¡Conoce el club de idiomas de fuera! Tout le monde est le bienvenue. Curious about other countries and their traditions? Want to learn the crafts of other cultures? Interested in Trader Joe's corn salsa? Foreign Language Club is the place to experience it all.

The FLC enjoyed sunny fall afternoons playing bocce and crafting ojos de dios, and later in the year, decorating cookies for la Navidad. Piñatas and masks arise from the mucky mess of goop used for papier-mâché. Of course, the main highlights for many of the members are the tasty treats supplied by Señora Daly. This year, the FLC went on a group trip for lunch at the local Crêpes Tea House, the perfect place to dig in to crêpes, potato pancakes, and a bounty of other delicious Eastern European cuisine. The Foreign Language Club is always looking for diversity, so don't be afraid to stop by if you've got something to bring to the table!

"You'll never see a group of people demolish a bag of tortilla chips faster than the Foreign Language Club."

Future Teachers of America

The foundation of Future Teachers of America is Adviser Signor Orefice, who holds years of experience and pride for the club, and first-year adviser Dr. Mitch Chambers. Future Teachers of America is a highly respected organizations in high schools throughout America that creates individuals who are leaders and educators.

The Future Teachers here at Agawam High are known for their life-saving blood drives and their partnership with the Red Cross with the aim to meet goals and raise money for club scholarships received by seniors. The FTA club members also hold the annual "Penny Wars" to encourage students of all classes to give away loose change in efforts to fund raise, not only the winning class, but also the club itself. Come springtime, there is a Junior/Senior volleyball game held by the FTA and it is considered the last "hurrah" for seniors before they graduate. The club also decided to extend some helping hands and volunteer effort at the new Agawam Community Center. The club always hopes to see a successful year, and this one was definitely one for the books.

Adam Dabkowski would like to have his cake and eat it too, please!

When the GSA (formerly known as the Gay-Straight Alliance) first began in 1998, there were only two members, and the club died as soon as they graduated. Now, twenty years later, the club is alive and well, with over a dozen weekly members--most of whom have been involved in club affairs since their freshmen year! The members of the Gender-Sexuality Alliance are a tight-knit family, and new additions to this family of friends are eagerly welcomed into the caring and accepting group with open arms. Every meeting is practically a party, with snacks and music and roaring laughter that shakes the whole room!

The GSA is more than just a place to hang out with friends, though: the club members attended the GLSEN conference in the Fall and the True Colors conference in the Spring to connect with like-minded teens from across Western Mass and learn more about how they can make positive changes in their community. One such movement they pushed for is the Day of Silence, where students pledge silence for a whole day in solidarity for LGBTQ+ youth who are forced to suffer in silence, before attending a "Speak Out" in the cafeteria where they may share their thoughts and feelings on the experience. The club sells hand-made flower pins and Candy Grams for Valentine's Day in order to raise money for these exciting field trips. The students also meet outside of school to attend events like Northampton Pride and Pride Prom together!

Generation for Truth

Generation for Truth is a small group for Christians and Catholics to bond over their mutual faith. They all consistently meet every other Wednesday, and Principal Tom Schnepp occasionally drops in to surprise the group and join that week's conversation. As has become tradition, the club participated in Operation Christmas Child which is run by the charitable foundation Samaritan's Purse. They accumulated 20 shoe box sized packages with different gifts for the victims of Hurricane Maria in Puerto Rico. "Even without thank you letters, the last thing on their minds, you know... it still makes you feel good," said President Nicole Luna.

For Christmas, they hold a small party and Secret Santa exchange. Outside of the holiday season they use the club as an after school youth group. They discuss God and how He holds a presence in their lives, as well as analyzing readings from the Bible. As several members belong to the Bethany Assembly of God, they arrange for the club to visit the church so that the group can enjoy guest bands when they perform.

Members: Markus Chobotaru, Johnathon Filamonte, Nicole Luna, Kaily Mayo, Diana Rybnikov, Jennifer Yusenko

Adviser: Mr. Scott Trahan

Mara Winer's focus couldn't be broken by an earthquake.

Prem Patel just knows he is going to ace this exam!

For some, math class can be utterly dreadful. For the members of the Math Team, however, math is a delight! The Math Team comes together to put their knowledge to the test--literally. For every meet that the team attends, there are different rounds pertaining to a certain math topic. Each member gets a paper with three questions on it relating to said topic that they must answer. At the end of the individual rounds there is a group round. According to mathlete Erin Dustin, as a team they claimed seventh place! Congratulations!

Calculus? No sweat!

Memorial Committee

On the last day of school before April break of 2017--while most students hurried home to relax and celebrate their freedom--the Memorial Committee met to install a new pump in the Kyla R. Roberts Memorial Pond. Since that day, taking care of the pond has become a great source of joy for the bubbly, enthusiastic committee members. This club meets periodically throughout the Spring and Fall to clean the pond, plant and tend to flowers surrounding it, as well as repair any damage done to memorials in the courtyard. Most of the members are the types of people who never grew out of playing in the dirt anyway, and so getting a little muddy in the process of making something beautiful just adds to the appeal!

Sonia Rubeck and Matthew Rowe channel "flower power" in the courtyard.

Treasure Club

Treasure club is a sub-club of the Memorial Committee that picks up trash littering the courtyard. They usually meet when they need a break from cleaning algae off of the pond liner.

Model Congress

Members: Zachary Dion, Jack Dunn, Johnathon Filamonte, Joseph Goudreau, Timothy Goudreau, Stephen Hall, David Javadian, Dorina Kodreanu, Diana Kulmizev, Crystal Lam, William Le, Shaun Mateus, Connor MacClinchy, Andrew Mccoy, Gwendolyn Panye, Brendan Poole, Evan Shannon

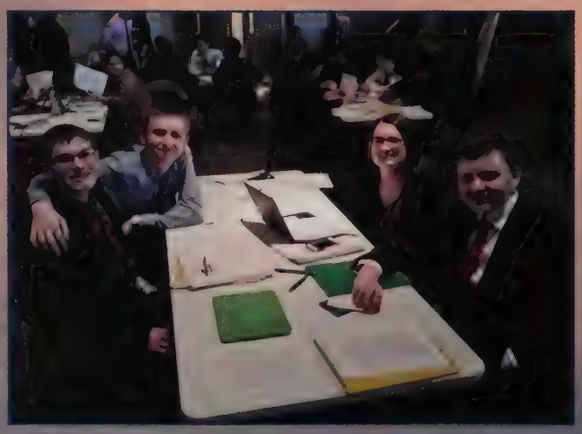

Adviser: Mr. Keith Ireland

Many students gather basic political knowledge on their way through high school, but Model Congress is one of the best places to become more educated and involved with the political system. They participate in mock sessions of Congress after school in which they write bills--law proposals not yet signed by Congress or the President--throughout the year. They spend their meetings narrowing down and perfecting the bills that will be brought to the Model Congress Convention held at American International College. The top delegate at the convention is awarded a full scholarship to AIC. With so much on the line, the selected delegates and their adviser Mr. Ireland were prepared for a congressional show down. Their proposed bills covered an adjustment to the Selective Service Act, an adjustment to Supreme Court Justices terms, and a bill proposing changes to the Electoral College. Senior Zachary Dion, the delegate proposing a change to the Selective Service act, won an honorable mention by placing fifth out of over one hundred delegates from other schools.

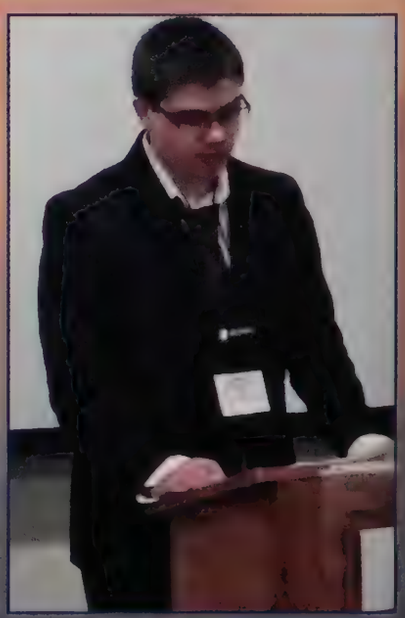

Delegate Zachary Dion provides his oral argument in favor of his proposed bill.

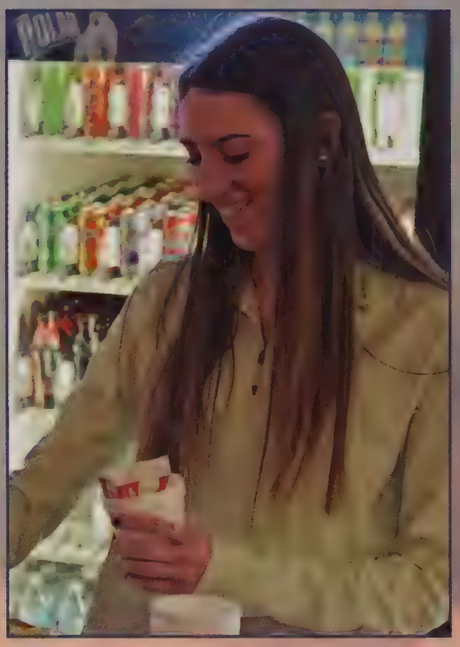

The delegates have close support teams that are meant to assist them in scanning over the potential bills other delegates bring forth.

Peer Leadership

Peer Leadership is a club that fund raises for local charities and organizations, and works behind the scenes to promote unity at the school. Peer Leadership members ensure that even the smallest amount of money raised will go a long way in making a difference for someone in need. The drive to find any possible way to help someone out is what truly characterizes a "peer leader." The club holds some interesting and fun events such as "Make Your Own Sundaes" for Valentine's Day or "Hot Chocolate Day" around Christmas vacation to get everyone excited for their week off from school.

As explained by Senior Caleigh Croteau, many members feel as though this club is a way to give back, and it helps the members become organized for the future and develop new skills. Their adviser Mrs. Gallo-Grimaldi has played a big role in teaching many students how to create a positive environment for Agawam High students. Peer Leadership always accepts new members for anyone wanting to be involved in their school and community.

Mr. Kandar and his band of braniacs always keep their door open for students looking for a little extra help on schoolwork.

The members of Peer-to-Peer Tutoring keep their sharp minds at the ready every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and are readily prepared to work through a tough DBQ with you, or explain thematic essays just a little more in depth. Where there's a Peer Tutor, there's certainly a student with the right knowledge to help you out.

Prom Committee

Be our guest! The 2018 Prom Committee invited Agawam High School to the famously fabulous Junior and Senior prom! This year, senior Jaden Luke concocted the idea of the "Beauty and the Beast" theme, and since June 2017 the committee worked diligently during long hours in Mr. Scott Trahan's workshop constructing and painting character props and planning the dance's decorating scheme. Leading up to the week of ticket sales, they met everyday after school for three weeks. If there's anything they've learned from Mr. Trahan and being apart of this club, it's this: organization and focus. Each member brings something different to the table, whether it's painting, construction, entering data or whatnot.

Many of the club members are Seniors, which made every moment of this experience all the more sacred. For the remaining Juniors, Prom of 2019 is only another year away; they've already started brainstorming ideas, taking the torch that the Seniors passed to them. The Prom Committee has put collectively over six hundred hours of hard work and preparation into making this prom the best in years, setting precedents for future proms to come.

Rosie Robotics

While most teenagers spend their evenings browsing the web and listening to music in the comfort of their beds, the members of the Rosie Robotics team dedicate most of their nights throughout the year to crafting computer-operated robots! In fact, most students clock in at about 200 hours craft a bot for the SE Mass and Hartford District Competition. Most have been members for years, and their involvement in Rosie Robotics has taught them the value of teamwork (however that doesn't mean that the Rosie team is afraid of a little friendly competition with each other). "Working as a team can make things much easier to accomplish," explains seasoned member Matthew Isermen, "but it can easily fall apart if people don't keep it together." To keep this machine well-oiled and running, the team has mastered time management and task organization. So, not only is Rosie Robotics the perfect outlet to hone one's STEAM based skills, but is also a spectacular source of work-force skills! While their base of operations may be in the school's basement, this is not a club that hides in the shadows--in fact, every year they host a huge "ziti party" to spread awareness of the club in hopes of acquiring new members with a passion for building and a love of challenges!

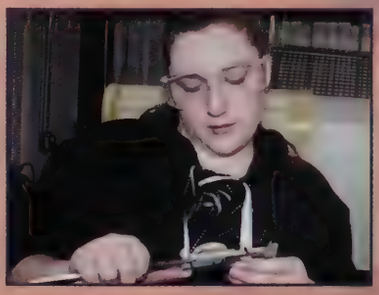

The Rosie Robotics team is as philanthropic as they are inventive. From volunteering their time to introduce STEAM to younger students, to hosting a LEGO tournament for the local FIRST LEGO League and FIRST LEGO League Jr teams, to collecting canned goods and monetary donations for the Mayflower Marathon, the Rosie Robotics team never lags in their goal to build a better tomorrow.

Members: Jacob Boucher, Jade Canney, Amy Crawford, Mia DePalma, Erin Dustin, Corey Duquette, Madisyn Homer, Kayla Jennison, Miranda Kamukala, Madelyn Lapierre, Marissa Mansfield, Meagan McKiernan, Gwendolyn Payne, Casey Smith

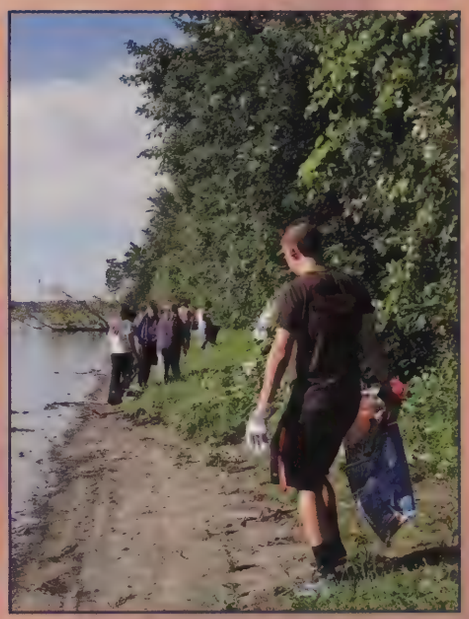

Adviser: Mrs. Beata Fleury

"Uh... did you just litter?"

Reduce, Reuse and Recycle! S.A.V.E club (Students Against Violating the Environment) is nothing like the rest; environmentally involved members are what makes this club so extraordinary. The purpose of S.A.V.E is to spread awareness for the environment and how precious our Mother Earth really is. Annually, the club participates in "clean-ups" around school once every season, and twice a year at the Connecticut River. There was also a charity clothes drive to promote the idea of reusable products, and this year they put stickers on sewage drains expressing "Don't Dump, this leads to a stream."

The most memorable lesson the club members have learned during their time in S.A.V.E. club is how to be a productive, conscious contributer to their community. The S.A.V.E. club is an unstoppable force, ultimately proving that, while humans can make a negative impact on their environment, certain ones like those that belong to this club can make a positive impact, too.

Ski/Snowboard Club

Members: Gino Aloisi, Sofia Blanchette, Jeremy Bogacz, Noah Bond, Gianna Boyle, Mackenzie Boyle, Ryan Butler, Madeline Cascio, James Chenevert, Derek Davis, Arianna Donovan, Christian Fisk, Sophia Hunt, Ally Jabry, Hunter Jones, Matthew King, Kyler Kisielewski, Julia Lescarbeau, Joshua Lesser, Michael Manning, Benjamin Mielnikowski, Connor Pender, Olivia Rising, Peter Parrotta, Jordan Rowe, Angelina Shayda, Anna Shlemanov, Skylar Thies, Lucas Woods, Theodore Woods

Advisers: Mr. Bryan Hollister and Mr. Matthew Stinson

The Agawam Ski and Snowboard Club is comprised of members who love to hit the trails of prime ski locations such as Catamount, Berkshire East, Pico, and Jimmy Peak. The club heads on day trips over the weekends to the mountains which provides students with great opportunities to improve their skiing and snowboarding skills, meet new people, go on adventures and, most importantly, to have fun with others. The Ski and Snowboard Club prides itself on being able to allow students a time outside of school to create lifelong memories. Mr. Hollister and Mr. Stinson like to provide as much time as possible for all of the members to get out on the slopes and enjoy the snow. The club is always open to anyone who would like to join and enhance their ski and snowboard experiences.

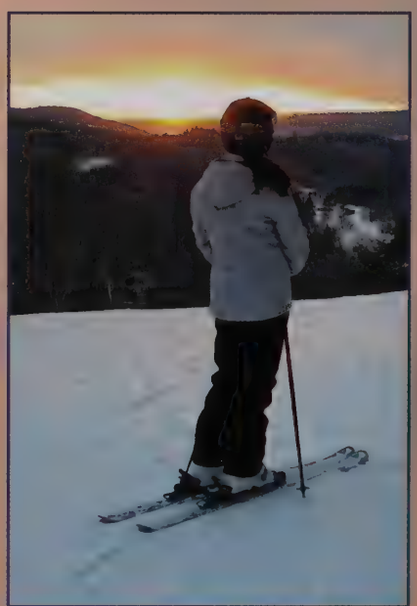

All set to hit the slopes!

Snowboarding is always better with a buddy.

Uniqorn

When everyone first learns about the Uniqorn club, their first questions are usually along the lines of "Wait, does this school have a club about unicorns?" and "Why is unicorn spelled with a q?" After they learn that the Uniqorn Club is actually the group that publishes "The Guild: Authors and Artists Annual," the school's literary magazine, they usually ask "Woah, where can I sign up?!"

The members of the Uniqorn meet on a bi-weekly basis to share their original poetry, short stories, and artwork with enthusiastic fellow artists, who often encourage each other with both critique and praise to continue growing as story-tellers. Usually in January, they begin to select the best from their collection of student work to be published in "The Guild." From there, the loyal members work together to edit and format their magazine, which they publish later in the Spring.

Adviser: Mrs. Sheila Chamberlin

American Sign Language is increasing in its importance in society with every passing year--and the members of the American Sign Language Club hope to bring a heightened awareness of the language, as well as a richer understanding of the deaf community, it's history and culture to Agawam! "Sign language is a truly beautiful and artistic language," says Sara Sosini, "and with the club we aim to encourage and promote it." Those interested may attend meetings to even learn the basics of ASL themselves!

Chemistry Olympiad

Which is the stronger acid: $HClO_2$ or $HClO_3$? Don't know? The Chemistry Olympiads do! Stuffed to the brim with knowledge on everything chemistry, these [#] AP Chemistry students (and other participants) ventured to UMASS Amherst for the annual Chemistry Olympiad intermural competition. These whiz kids tested their scientific prowess against participants like X, Y, and Z in a series of multiple choice and open response questions aimed to challenge and assess their understanding of chemistry.

Adviser: Mrs. Julia Santa

The Future Medical Career Club is exactly what it sounds like--a club for students interested in health-care and public safety! This club is responsible for organizing the Wacky Olympics, which took place on March 7 this year. Participants ate donuts off of sticks, balanced ping-pong balls on spoons, and raced around the gym through a relay course. Ultimately, the Senior class took home the gold! They also run fund raisers to be able to give their graduating Seniors who were loyal to the club a scholarship.

Programming Team

Members: Abel Barbaneagra, Russell Cooper, Matthew Iserman, Crystal Lam, John Manale, Evan Shannon, Eric Zheng

Adviser: Mr. Matthew Stinson

The Programming Team is for those competitive few who strive to be the best. They take their knowledge of computers and put it to work. The team arrived at the 34th annual Computer Programming Contest at Western New England University on March 23 and battled against fourteen other teams across five school districts. It was the closest competition in the past decade, and all fourteen teams solved at least one problem. The Agawam team claimed third place, and their shiny plaque commemorating their victory hangs amongst the rest of their collection on Mr. Stinson's wall!

Star Wars

What's more fun than having a club about Star Wars? Not many people would expect a club dedicated to one intellectual property, but when you have a universe as expansive as Star Wars- spanning movies, TV shows, video games, books, action figures, and more- there's plenty to go on. This club meets together every couple of weeks discussing in-depth pieces of lore and theories about the future of the franchise. After each riveting discussion, the members go home with huge smiles on their faces. Thanks to the man, the myth, the legend himself, Mr. Ireland, this seemingly simple club is a joy for all its members.

Adviser: Mr. Timothy Murphy

It is the job of the Student Government to plan out the themes for Spirit Week and spread the word about them to the student body. After brief debate and negotiation, they chose the themes of Color Day, Twin Day, Red-White-and-Blue Day, Flannel Friday, and Sports Team Day. They drew up bright orange posters and plastered them across the school. Additionally, Student Government also discuss future activities and field trips that the club would like to go on.

Honor Societies...

The Honor Societies at Agawam High are exclusive groups that encourage high achieving, excelling students to continue and share their achievements and excellence, as well as to act as role models for the entire student body.

Performing Arts...

All the world's a stage for those who participate in the incredible Performing Arts programs here at the high school. These performers live and breathe their craft. Every single one of the bands and chorus groups dedicate hours upon hours of their time both during and after school to prepare for their shows. Whether it's the Marching Band playing on the football field, the Honors Chorus lighting up the auditorium, or the Wind Ensemble bringing the heat at MICCA, every performance is guaranteed to be a stunning display of creativity and talent.

To join the Performing Arts is to join a family. These groups allow the students involved in them to form unbreakable bonds with each other, and it's these connections that make the journey so worthwhile.

'Tis always the season for the Honors Chorus!

CLUBS

Chorale

Members: Mia Baginski, Noah Bond, Allison Cohen, Jordyn Daley, Emma Daunais, Ashley Denardo, Marissa Deslauriers, Arianna Diaz, Chase Gentile Alyssa Gentilella, Lindsey Ghidoni, McKenna Gilroy, Joseph Glaessner, Taylor Gosselin, Morgan Grondin, Jordan Gurau, Jason Hamel, Julia Kirezi, Natalie Lane, Brianna Lasorsa, SungHee Lee, Sydney Maxey, Sabrina McBride, Timothy McHugh, Victoria Miller, Elijah Oquendo, Hannah Packer, Peter Parrotta, Brooke Perry, Cierra Rodriguez, Alfredo Santos, Kiley Sheehan, Mikayla Sole, Elizabeth White, Antonia Wood

Director: Ms. Sonja Funk

The Chorale at AHS is a tight knit group who entertains audiences from small classes to big auditoriums. This singing group has performed at two big events this year, the Winter Arts Festival and a concert at the junior high school. To bond, the Chorale members gets together every other Friday and does something that they call "lounge." During "lounge," students volunteer to perform a song of their choice in front of the class and then later receive feedback and positive reinforcement. This is a way to allow the singers to get more and more comfortable with the other people in the group and to improve their performance skills. Before any performance or practice, the members do vocal warm ups such as Do-Re-Mi to enhance and improve their sound as a whole. Chorale sings many songs such as Liza, Sit Down You're Rocking the Boat, and I Sing Because I'm Happy. To help the community, the Chorale students collaborates with the Honors Chorus to do fundraisers such as ticket sales and canned food drives. The group as a whole are a very well-rounded bunch of individuals who dedicate their time to entertain the community.

"We practice in a very positive atmosphere and are always supportive of each other."

Tonal Tenacity

Members: Juliana Amato, Samantha Buteau, Marissa Collins, Adam Dabkowski, Rachel Dialessi, Amaya Donald, Sarah Gingras, Kathryn Glaessner, Savannah Goudreau, Bella Hastings, Noah Hiersche, Christina Jagodowski, Autumn La Branche, SungHee Lee, Honesty Osbourne, Kayla Poulin, Madison Provencher, Madeline Rahilly, Emily Randall, Brianna Santucci, Teal Savoury, Mara Winer

Director: Ms. Sonja Funk

The Honors Chorus is an enthusiastic, passionate group who do more than just sing. Their director Ms. Funk is seen as a person they can come to, as if the chorus room is a place to escape to when all goes bad. Songs they sang this year pushed them out of their comfort zones included a "gorgeous arrangement" of Hallelujah, a Queen medley, Bridge Over Troubled Water, L.O.V.E., and other classics. To prepare for concerts, Tonal Tenacity warms up with Ms. Funk and sing in mixed formation. A tradition they hold is having a Snapchat group chat, and "quote book." There are two books, one for "quality quotes" which hold all funny moments that occur and another which holds quotes which includes encouragement and inspirational messages they can all reflect on when needed.

This year, all members auditioned for district chorus; seven making All Western Mass and three All State. For seniors especially, they will miss the trustworthy atmosphere, community, and friendships made.

Juliana Amato states that chorus is all about "playing as a family, and to think of what the music is telling you," and to "feel the soul of the music" being sung.

SungHee Lee loves the environment, and how it's "warm, supportive, and like home."

Concert Band

Members: William Balzano, Reese Bourgeois, Madison Braska, Jason Bryant, Nicholas Burbank, Ryan Butler, Keeley Cote, Serena Croteau, Nicole Depergola, Ava Duffy, Emily Ehresman, Julianna Faillace, Jocelyn Fonseca, Mia Hastings, Samuel Hodovanec, Alyssa Johnson, Margaret Johnston, Kevin Kabysh, Austin Larrabee, Shannon Laurie, Jaron Luke, Kaylie Lupien, Meagan McKiernan, Siobhan McMahon, Erin Mikuszewski, Hannah Richter, Jennifer Ritter, Sarah Ross, Dahlia Ryan, Olivia Salva, Jackson Schlosser, Rachel Sills, Jessie Smith, Annabella Spinney, Jacob Thomas, Rilee Tourville, Abigail Warris, Oscar Wolfe

Director: Mr. William Hueglin

New to Agawam High School this year is the concert band. Directed by William Hueglin, the band is exclusively freshmen. The band focuses on working together to form a unified group. The highlight of their symphony repertoire was The Great Locomotive Chase. In this performance the band had to time up with their fellow performers and with the skill of their director to form a audio illusion which would sound like a train revving its coal engine up and down. The band practices hard during class and at dress rehearsal the evening before their concerts. Also included in the repertoire of music are Dark Land March, Dare and Dane, and Abracadabra. As primarily underclassmen, they receive tutelage from the upperclassmen who are more experienced with Mr. Hueglin's expectations and how he conducts for a well executed performance.

So far, so good--the Concert Band has already made a splash by winning a Silver Medal at MICCA Concert Festival this year!

Nicholas Burbank closely reads his sheet to keep flawless timing.

The band performs at the concert with Huelgin's skillful leadership.

Percussion Ensemble

Members: Jacob Baeder, Jason Breton, Bradley Clarke, Thalia Diaz-Lacasse, Meadow Dion, Zachary Dion, Christopher Fontaine, Jack Frogameni, Julia Hall, Stephen Hall, Ethan Harnois, Dan Kang, Shawn Newsome, Deanna Pahl, Corey Taylor, Caleb Williams, Michael Winer

Director: Mr. William Hueglin

The crash of the cymbals and the rumble of the drums can only mean one thing: Agawam High's Percussion Ensemble is back on the mallets again. These talented musicians have performed in all three of Agawam's seasonal concerts. The ensemble holds daily practices under the instruction of band director William Hueglin in pursuit of perfect timing and rhythm. These proficient percussionists work hard to create beautiful songs on instruments like the timpani drums, chimes, xylophones, an even buckets. Thats right!

A smaller section of percussion, known as the Honors Ensemble gave an exciting performance of a song played entirely with drumsticks on gallon-size plastic buckets. The Honors Ensemble is a group of four students selected to play advanced scores of music such as "Twinkle Twinkle Variations."

Symphony Band

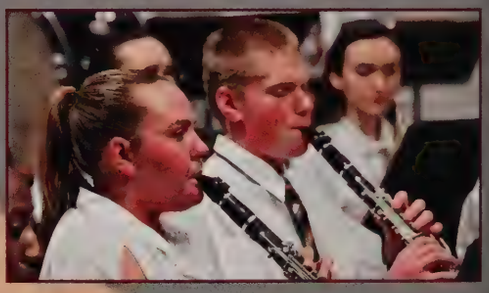

Members: Natalie Andrews, Gaberel Bodley, Allison Breton, Jason Breton, Juliet Burbank, Abigayle Capalbo, Jacob Cavanaugh, Bradley Clarke, Emily Cote, Megan Crawford, Cedric Davis, Meadow Dion, Jack Dunn, Corey Duquette, Rawan Ebrahim, Sarah Ehresman, Erin Ewing, Christopher Fontaine, Evan Frappier, Brianna Gaynor, Nadia Ghareeb, Matthew Gorman, Emily Greeson, MaryRose Hutchins, Heather Iserman, Matthew Iserman, Ernesto Jimenez, Miranda Kamukala, Alex Korniyenko, Trysten Lajoie, Madelyn Lapierre, Kayla Laurie, Jaden Luke, Godfrey Macadangdang, Ryan MacDonald, Marissa Mansfield, Shawn Newsome, Joseph Piccoli, Samuel Polley, Noah Rivera, Katelyn Roberts, Romiro Roderiques, Matthew Rowe, Joseph Russo, Robert Schlosser, Emily Smidt, Andrew Snow, Yousef Tahoun, Angela Taliceo, Kaylee Tang, Corey Taylor, Robert Taylor, Caleb Williams, Gianna Yacovone, Isabella Yacovone

Director: Mr. William Hueglin

Do you like music? I can assure you that our Symphony Band will put on a great show one hundred percent of the time. Not only does the band make wonderful music, but the bonding and dedication is spot on. Sometimes the band stays after to practice, they have dress rehearsals, and even practice in the auditorium during class time. Kayla Laurie says her favorite song they played this year was "A Christmas Festival" by Leroy Anderson. "Our group is very kind, to one another and we are able to laugh and talk to each other when we make mistakes and I feel like that goes a long way with how we are able to perform," says Nadia Ghareeb. Some songs they performed this year were A Little Tango, A Carmen Christmas, and King Across the Water. The band always ends their concerts with plenty of smiles and happiness from the audience.

Thanks to Mr. Hueglin and the hard working band, AHS is proud to say that their Symphony Band brought home a Silver Medal at this year's MICCA Concert Festival at UMASS Amherst!

"I will miss the friends I have made throughout the program." ~ Kayla Laurie

"My favorite song we played is March of the Paratroopers." ~ Miranda Kamuala

Wind Ensemble

Members: Abigail Agron, Kalea Alvarez, Jacob Cavanaugh, Aidan Chan, David Dagenais, Olivia DePergola, Cristina Ferraro, Maxwell Felix, Kyle Garner, Emily Greeson, Sophie Hastings, Kayla Herlihy, MaryRose Hutchins, Matthew Iserman, Christina Jagodowski, Joseph Jagodowski, Richard Jagodowski, Anthony Kryzkowski, Kayla Laurie, Brendan LeBlanc, Jaden Luke, Evan Lyne, Agnessa Melnik, Amanda Moquin, Sarah Newsome, Camryn Nicora, Emelie Oberheim, Gwendolyn Payne, Felicity Rovatti, Christian Rua, Justin Salva, Casey Smith, Matthew St. Laurent, Alexandria Taylor, David Wheat, Mara Winer

Director: Mr. William Hueglin

The Agawam High School Wind Ensemble is a tightly knit band where each person is able to showcase their talent while still maintaining a strong group dynamic. Senior Mara Winer says she "will miss the family-like environment." All the members agree there is a very familial feel to this group, and the seniors are sad to see it come to an end. One of the favorite songs they played this year was Lux Arumque. The band practices very often and diligently until their sound is just right. At times, being a member of this group, can be stressful and time consuming, but with the dedication the students have it is well worth it--this year, their hard work won them the Gold Medal at MICCA! Christina Ferraro says she will miss most "how dedicated the members of the band are."

Look no further if you are searching for a productive and rewarding activity to add into your high school career.

Senior Jaden Luke's favorite song from this year was "Rollo Takes a Walk."

Kayla Herlihy says the group works together to prepare for concerts "by listening to each other and being able to adjust!"

Guard, and Majorettes

On certain autumn nights in Agawam, if you're quiet enough, you can hear the drum and hum of the Marching Band's songs travel through the air. Like it says in bold white letters on their brown t-shirts: "It's not a football game without the band!" The members of the Agawam Marching Band spend their summers at Band Camp, memorizing their music until the rhythm becomes instinctual in preparation for their fall season. While the student section leaders know better than anyone how silly the "Bandos" can get during their rehearsals, but their professionalism is unmatched as they don those iconic orange and brown uniforms and step into formation. The Marching Band doesn't just fade away after football season's over--they also play in the Holyoke St. Patrick's Day Parade, where they were declared "The Best High School Marching Band" of 2018! "The greatest thing to witness is seeing how we grow as a band over time," said Kayla Laurie, section leader for the Trumpets, "there is growth every single day. We trust each other and are all very close friends. It will be something I miss being apart of."

It's not just the instrumentalists on the field, however. The Majorettes and Color Guard complement the music with their incredible choreography. Despite the fact that there were only two Majorettes this year, both girls commanded attention- not just because of their shiny outfits, but also because of their incredible talent. The Color Gaurd's "tropical getaway" theme was, unsurprisingly, stunning in its execution as well. Like the band, the members of the Color Gaurd are a tight knit group of friends as much as they are partners. For weekend long competitions, they have sleepovers (which usually consists of movie watching and lots of snacks). Anytime the Color Gaurd gets together, you'll be sure to see them all smiling! "I found it easy to really be one with everyone else," said Amaya Donald, who joined the group this year. She continued: "The Color Gaurd is there to make sure that a deaf person can feel the music. There was incredible improvement this season and I anticipate seeing even more growth from the 'newbies' during Winter Gaurd."

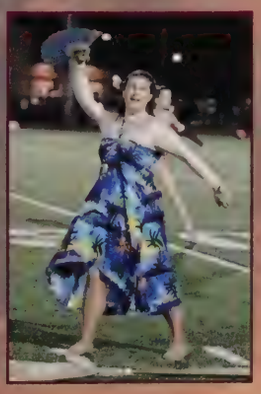

What's Jake Cavanaugh's secret to playing the Tuba so well? He won't tell...!

Snack break!

The leaves start to fall...

While we, the students, may have trouble readapting to the high school schedule as Summer Vacation winds to a close, the school itself wastes no time getting back into the swing of things. If you take a jaunt around the school on any given evening, you're bound to stumble onto at least two sports teams practicing in the fields, the Marching Band playing in the parking lot, and the Drama Kids rehearsing in the auditorium. Friday night Football games draw the whole town to the Harmon A. Smith field, and, of course, the excitement leading up to Spirit Week begins to brew as soon as schedules are handed out on the first day. Honestly, it takes an active effort to not have at least a little bit of fun.

"The Twilight Zone"

You open a yearbook. There are faces, many faces, staring back at you, but you hardly know any of them at all. Some of them seem familiar. As you flip through the pages, memories seem to melt together. Who were you with at Pep Rally? How many basketball games did you go to? What was that song, the one that struck a chord with you, at the chorus concert? As you scrape and scrap at your brain for answers, you turn the page--to this page... you have entered "The Twilight Zone."

You are guided through three stories of horror and mystery by your ever-charming host, Rod Serling (played by Nickolas Denehy). First, "The Obsolete Man," where a librarian in a society that has banned books is condemned to death for obsolescence. Second, "Number 12 Looks Just Like You," where a girl desperately clings to identity in a world where all people are made "beautiful" (and indistinguishable) via plastic surgery. Finally, "The Monsters Are Due on Maple Street," where strange lights in the sky and a power failure convince a normal neighborhood of suburbanites that they are being invaded by aliens.

Believe it or not, the Hastings sisters aren't REALLY twins.

"Alright, gang, let's split up and look for clues!"

Spirit Week

Seeing double on Twin Day!

Every year, in the week leading up to our annual Pep Rally, Agawam High becomes a circus of colorful costumes and mass color coordination as an exercise in school unity! This year, from the 14th to the 22nd of November we had Sports Day; Red, White, and Blue Day; Decades Day; Flannel Friday; Twin Day; Color Day; and finally Brown and Orange Day. Spirit Week has a friendly competitive nature to it, with each grade hoping to have the highest turn out (ESPECIALLY on Decades Day and Color Day when each grade gets its own theme to adhere to), but on Brown and Orange Day the lines are blurred and everyone comes together to don the school colors and show their Brownie Pride. Spirit Week is one of the brightest times in the Academic Year, and great fun for staff and students alike!

PEP

JOYOUS AND

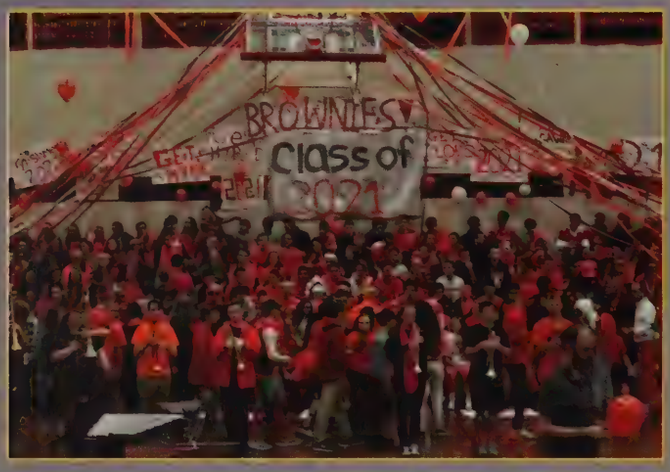

If you were decked out head to toe in school colors and spent an hour screaming your head off this 22nd of November, you must have gone to Pep Rally. With the gym walls plastered in class banners, orange and brown streamers, and overflowing Agawam spirit, this year's pre-Thanksgiving football game celebration erupted in thunderous enthusiasm for the performances by the marching band, color guard, and cheerleaders. As usual, the Senior class dominated in the school song sing-off as they burst eardrums and destroyed voices. (maybe next year, Juniors). Congratulations to all sports teams who received awards, and good luck to the underclassmen at next year's rally!

"FRESHMEN! FRESHMEN! FRESHMEN!"

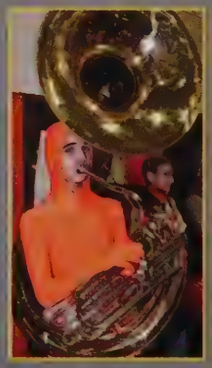

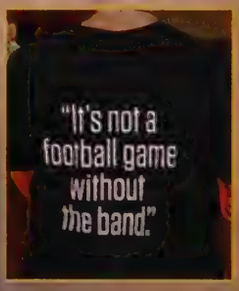

"WE CAN'T HEAR YOU"

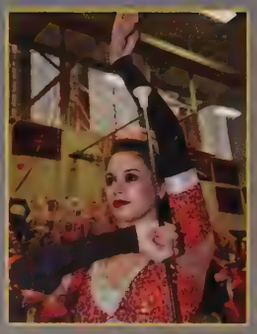

RALLY

EVER LOYAL

Joyous and ever loyal
Let us root for Agawam High
Let every heart sing
Let every voice ring
There's no time to grieve or sigh
RAH! RAH!
It's ever onward
Our course pursuing
May defeat Ne'r our ardour cool
RAH! RAH!
But united we will root for our old AGAWAM HIGH!

Powderpuff Game

A gloomy day brought for a mean Powderpuff game the day of Pep Rally between the Senior Class of 2018 and the Junior Class of 2019. The two teams came armed with ferocity and enthusiasm--though that fire was almost put out once the icy rain started halfway through, which cut down playing time. The Seniors had a hard offense with Sabrina Christy as their quarterback, who had many interceptions and intricate plays made by the coaches that were followed by the players. The Juniors had fierce running backs, Emily Oliver and Izzy Liquori who kept the ball alive and going for them.

The Agawam High Schools' student body crowded in the fan section (especially with Jon Wright running shirtless through the field) with the utmost spirit. Juniors got a little aggressive once the Seniors captured the lead, however the Seniors managed to pull off another win for another year in the books. Although the game was cut short, Powderpuff continues to be a lasting tradition for both Junior and Senior girls who wish to keep it alive.

It's not really a sports game until a streaker hits the turf.

The roaring crowds, prior to getting drenched in the freezing rain.

Thanksgiving Day Game

The Marching Mohawks play as loud as they can to keep the crowd and team pumped up.

On November 23rd, the Agawam Brownies carried on a 93 year-old tradition and faced down their rivals: the West Springfield Terriers. On a crisp Thursday morning, the Agawam Brownies began their warm up. You could feel the tension in the air as the West Springfield team took the field. The Brownies entered the game as the underdogs with a record of 4-6, meanwhile the Terriers were named Western Mass champions of the Suburban South conference with a record of 10-1. The Brownies, however, took the field determined not to be swept aside.

For the first few offensive and defensive drives the team fought hard. The fighting spirit however was lost when a great defensive stop was undermined by a muffed punt giving West Side back the ball. This loss in momentum was never regained and the Terriers continued a viscous assault down the grid iron. As the clock tickled down with only a few minutes left in the fourth quarter, the Brownies attempted to mount a counter attack and draw blood. It was too little too late. When the clock ticked down to triple zeros, the scoreboard read: Agawam 0, Guests 34. This heart breaking defeat would be the first lost to West Side in five years. In the overall record of the 93 years the Brownies have the winning record of 62 wins, 24 losses, and 3 ties to the West Springfield Terriers since the tradition began.

Jared Durocher and Elijah Torres collide midair in an attempt to pick off the ball- but it ends in a incomplete pass!

If you looked at the scores alone, you might think that the Boys' Cross Country Team ended their season disappointed. The Boys' Cross Country Team, however, is not the "Glass-Half-Empty" type. "This season was the most fun I've ever had," said freshman Lucas Woods, who some may say is the backbone of the team, "Running with this team felt like no other feeling I've had on a team before. They truly are my family." Through all terrains and climates--no matter how far and physical the mile--their bond only strengthens with every pace.

If you were lucky enough to make it to one of their meets, you'd see bright, smiling faces abound. Though every person technically runs on their own, the boys are always there to support each other through to the end, where they wait for each other at the finishing line to shout encouragement. In the end, the boys claimed two fantastic victories against Renaissance (15-50) and Sci-Tech (24-32), but every boy finished their season with a myriad of personal victories achieved through new records and improvement.

The Girls' Cross Country Team had an outstanding, undefeated season. From blowing Holyoke out of the water in the first meet with a score of 15-30, to being third in Western Mass, to placing in the top twenty in States, the girls' team constantly pushed each other to new heights and, time and time again, proved themselves more than capable of rising to the occasion. There was some real talent this year, such as Freshmen Sarah Ross and Kimberly Beaver, who made outstanding showings at meets, coming in top five out of dozens of fellow competitors in every race.

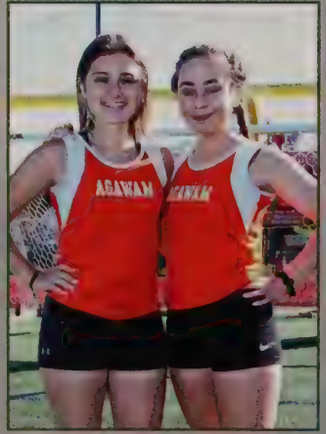

The hours of hard work they invested into their season paid off. "This season was an unforgettable one," said Senior Captain Sarah Ruel, "I'll always remember my friends, my family, my team." After a wonderful season, the girls' team hopes to maintain their undefeated streak into next year and use that motivation to make their way to States again.

Ever since they were freshmen, the members of the Varsity Field Hockey Team have dreamed of making it all the way to the Western Mass Finals. Making dreams come true, however, takes skills that each and every single member of the team worked diligently for years to hone. Their practices stayed focused and intense, their games electric with that uniquely Brownie vigor, and yet the girls never lost touch with the love and enjoyment for field hockey that fueled them all those years ago. Beyond just aspiring towards Western Mass, however, the team was motivated by a mutual love for each other. The girls frequently talked both in and outside of school and developed genuine friendships with each other to last them the rest of their lives. Being able to play with people they could consider family eradicated any anxiety that could have held them back.

Their dreams came true. Their final victory over Minnechaug guaranteed their spot in the Western Mass Finals. They did not ultimately win, but they'd already proven themselves just by qualifying. "We picked our heads up and brushed it off," said Captain Kristen Fellion, "That day, we made history. It was one of the best blood-rushing feelings a team with a passion could ever feel."

The Agawam Brownies rode a winding road of success and failure this year on the grid iron. The team was accustomed to having one or two stars that could carry the team, which is something that the Brownies were lacking this year. The team needed to communicate and work together as a well-oiled machine, however egos and inability to adapt and overcome ground them to a halt in many games. When the team preformed well they conquered over their opponents defeating Putnam, Westfield, Chicopee Comp, and Taconic in spectacular fashions. In the games against East Longmeadow, Longmeadow, and the second grid iron battle against Westfield, the Brownies were in a good position to mount an offensive comeback in the second halves; however, they failed to deliver and began blaming others for their mistakes.

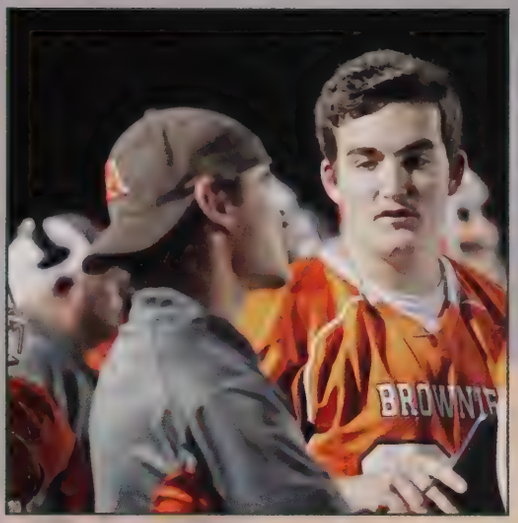

In three games the team just did not show up to play. Against Wahconah defensive tackling was weak and offense could not get the ball rolling causing a defeat. Fast forward five weeks and the Brownies faltered at Holyoke fumbling the ball and allowing seven turnovers putting the defense in a terrible exhausting fight. The unfortunate season was capped off by the Brownies first loss to the West Side Terriers in four years.

Jared Durocher squeezes through the Putnam defense on an outside sweep.

Zackary Godbout and Scott Malecki hustle off the field after a successful stop by the Brownies defense against the Colts.

Ryan White hauls in a perfectly placed pass in the end zone to put the Brownies on top of the Beavers.

The Agawam Varsity Football Cheerleading Team always brings spirit to every single football game, able to cheer up even the grumpiest of crowds with their smiles, laughter, and positive attitudes. Each football season is different from the last, but one thing you can always count on is that the cheerleaders will always be there to support the team the entire way through. Senior Captain Karli James always kept her team on their feet and never let anyone have anything less than a great time during each game. Later on, half-way through the season the three other seniors Sarah Newsome, Nickolas Negron and Melissa Paquette were named Captains also, and the four of them together cultivated an atmosphere of fun for everyone.

The bond the girls (and boy!) created throughout their season was something that could never be broken no matter what, and a major lesson each person, both new members and now-Alumni alike, learned this year was that they were a family and that meant they could never give up on each other. No matter what it was that needed improvement, they would forever work together to work it out. They finished off their season with one of the most outstanding pep-rally performances they'd ever done as well as their first Thanksgiving Game on the new turf. Win or lost they were all in it together, and this incredible season is one they'll keep in their hearts forever.

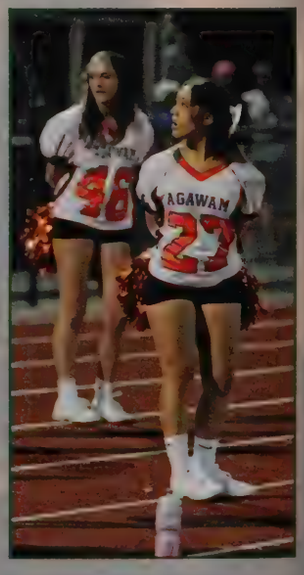

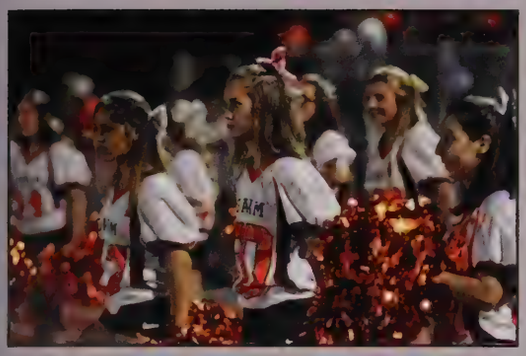

After a long summer, Melissa Paquette is ready to jump back into action.

Golf is a sport that demands focus, precision, and dedication to honing the perfect swing. Although normally an individual sport, the Agawam Varsity Golf Team works together like a fine-oiled machine. Their communication skills and mutual support kept them motivated every time they went out on the green. Together, the team had a phenonemal season this fall, with an almost flawless record with the sole exception of their match against Longmeadow.

These players practiced for long hours everyday to fine-tune their skills and perfect their techniques, always striving to achieve greater and greater feats. Thomas Grenier stated that he simply "loves going out and playing a quick 9 holes with the boys." In the end, the Agawam Golf Team became the champions of their league, placed 2nd in Western Mass, and qualified for States.

For ten years, the Agawam Gymnastics Team has fought a fierce battle against Westfield to revive the Western Massachusetts title back to its home. The season started off as a slow one, losing to every single team, every single meet, every single time. That did not stop their journey just yet, however. Freshman Sophia Moccio stated "if anything, gymnastics has taught me that if you fall and feel like giving up, you have to get back up again or you'll never be able to do it," which is exactly how their season went. Through hard work and tackling adversity, the team went through multiple injuries, grueling practices and multiple, motivating team talks. The girls then came so close to a first place finish against Hampshire and Chicopee, but lost by .225. Being so close, yet so far away, that was one of the top season highlights for the team. No matter how the meets end up, the girls always resort to the bus for their infamous "Jam Session" with a light up disco ball while singing to their team song "Don't Stop Believing" by Journey. Senior Captain Amber Fillion hopes that this season taught perseverance, raised attitudes, and lessons to last a lifetime.

Some of the most memorable moments came from girls competing individually. Olivia Rising's memorable moment was competing her first meet on vault, Sophia Moccio got her yurchenko for the first time since summer without mats, Megan Crawford got a release requirement on bars, and Amber Fillion got her roundoff on beam. Rachel Houle added, "It was the best season yet."

The Boys' Varsity Soccer Team "kicked" butt this year! Coming out as one of the top teams in the district with a season record of 8-6-6, the boys rode their success all the way to playoffs. What made them such a strong competitor? The answer is simple: their chemistry. Everyone has been playing together over the course of multiple seasons and has had plenty of time to bond and learn each other's style of play--even the team's sole Freshman addition adapted quickly to the dynamic. The boys are competitive, but also supportive, and are always looking to have a good time with their teammates--whether it's on the field or bumping to music in the back of the bus on the way to games!

Playing West Springfield back to back and tying them both times was one of the most exciting facets of the season according to seniors Jonathan LeClair and Joseph Johnston. Our rival has an extremely skilled and competitive team, so any game playing them is always intense. "Getting a tie is never fun, especially when it's against West Side," explains Joe Johnston, "but you learn to look at the bigger picture and move on to the next game." Strife never stifles the Varsity Soccer Boys, which is why their team will continue victoriously!

"How ya doing over there?"

The girls' soccer had a battle of a season this fall, alternating wins and losses like clockwork. The girls fought hard against powerful rivals like West Side, Northampton, and Longmeadow, never losing their fiery determination from their first victory of the season against Chicopee to their loss to Northampton on Halloween. Captains Alyssa Montagna, Jessica Bonfiglio, and Cassandra Jones competed in and claimed victory at an All Star game following the conclusion of their season.

Daily practices were spent honing teamwork, communication skills, and soccer fundamentals, and it carried over into their matches. Team bonding went beyond the games, however: the night before every game, both Varsity and J.V. squads would host pasta parties to get hyped before the match. The Varsity squad held their annual "Team Sleepover" and hosted a car wash/bake sale fundraiser to buy presents for everyone at the end-of-the-year banquet.

On Wednesdays, the Agawam Girls' Varsity Volleyball team may wear pink for Breast Cancer Awareness. Or, such as they did on their Senior Night, they may sport tiaras and sashes. Other choice practice themes this season included bright neons, a Blackout, and the classic Red-White-and-Blue. If there's anything that the Varsity Volleyball squad has mastered, it's how to keep things fresh, which is fitting for a sport that's all about spontaneity. The girls have fervent love for both the game itself and each other.

Team bonding is a constant and crucial component of the team's work ethic. No matter if it's at their daily after-school practices, their exciting games, or at their pasta parties, the team is always building their relationships with each other. They had a good season this year, ending with a record of 11-10. These girls care so much about their teammates and about the sport. They would bond together at pasta parties. The team worked very hard to go as far as they did this season. They practiced every day to perfect their skills and make themselves that much more ready for games. In the long run, the girls' constant effort and high spirits worked out well for them.

Long, chilly nights...

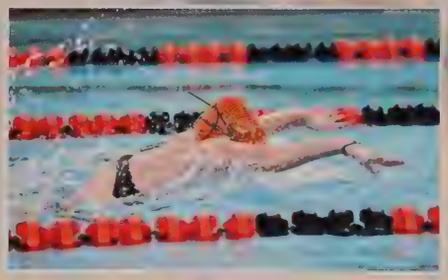

Winters in New England are unforgiving. Especially over the course of the past couple years, we spend a good third of our year snowed in. The Brownies don't let that seasonal sadness get them down, though, and the school stays as occupied as ever. There's almost always some spectacle to behold in the gymnasium, like the Basketball squads shooting hoops while the Winter Cheer team roots them on, or the Wrestling team duking it out on the mats. Most sports are conducted outside of the school, however, so it might require a jaunt over to the junior high or a mini road-trip to a snowy mountain in order to see the Swim and Ski teams at work. If you did, though, rest assured that it'd be worth it!

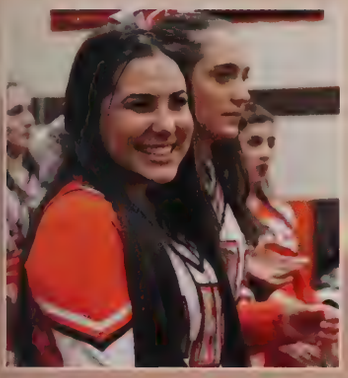

Of course, since there is something oh-so poetic about snowfall, the arts are just as important as the athletics in the winter. Namely the Winter Arts Festival, featuring the works of various art classes as well as performances from Chorale and Honors Chorus, and the second annual Poetry Out Loud competition, which certainly warmed the hearts of all students who attended!

Winter Arts Festival

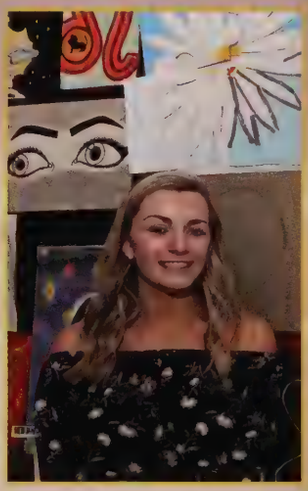

The Winter Arts Festival (WAF) has been an ongoing hit year after year at AHS. The art students and staff take pride in their work and dedication to their classes and never fail to impress the people that come to the event. The WAF seems to be getting more and more successful every year. With the help of many talented students and by the guidance of their teachers, the cafeteria is turned into a mini museum that showcases the beautiful and articulate art work made by the artists here at AHS. The art students have so much fun being able to display their hard work and talent to the public and look forward to the positive feedback that they receive.

Poetry Out Loud

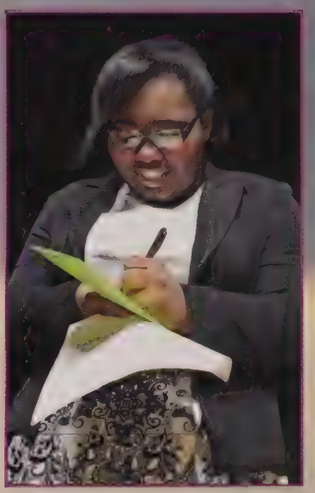

Silence fell over the auditorium as Natalie Dean, the first of the twenty Poetry Out Loud contestants, stepped up to the microphone. As she began reciting "The Ocean" by Nathaniel Hawthorne, the audience became entranced, hanging on her every word. This was the first of many incredible performances that morning by the twenty students who came out triumphant in their classroom try-outs and made it to the school-wide competition. Everyone brought something unique to the stage--even Honesty Osbourne and Crystal Lam, who performed the same poem, delivered the exact same words in their completely different but equally as powerful styles.

The judges for the competition were Principal Schnepp, Assistant Principal Feyre, Mrs. LaPoint, and the Memorization Accuracy Judges were Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. Johnson. Ultimately, Natalie Andrews, Paige Hollander, SungHee Lee, Honesty Osbourne, Jacob Cavanaugh, Sarah Ross, and Diana Kulmizev proceeded on to the second round. Diana and Honesty placed second and first for the second year in a row, and Honesty went on to represent Agawam at the state-wide competition!

Winter Cheerleading

Winter cheerleading is divided into two types of cheerleading; basketball cheer and competitive cheer. Basketball cheerleading is fun for everyone who does it, it's a time to get our crowd excited for the game they're watching and to remind the basketball players we're always there rooting for them whether they're playing a good or not so good game. This year the basketball cheerleading team brought some new cheers for everyone to the team and even had the largest team we've had in a while. There is never a dull moment with the cheer team, and there could never be with the enthusiasm the team has and the bond they share.

The competitive team is very close just as the basketball team is although the competition team has a little more to it than just cheering on a great team. This year the cheerleaders faced a ton of challenges with injuries but they pulled it off better than anyone else could. With these challenges being handled the best way they ended up coming in first place in their county and second in their division (co-ed) at leagues and this lead them to regionals in early March and soon after states. This will be the first in many years that the cheerleaders have received a banner for their school, and they could not have done it without their amazing coach Kelly Cichetti and hard-working captains Karli James, Vanni Morello and Amy Langford.

The boys' varsity season started off pretty well, winning their first game of the season against South Hadley. With the loss of three seniors, the team managed to never give up, although their season didn't go as they would have hoped and without the age and experience of three lost seniors, the boys struggled to make a comeback but still finished proud of their effort and dedication to the sport and towards their team.

Captain Zachary Moccio, stated that the lesson he had learned during the season was "to never give up under any circumstances." The team bonded pretty well by having pasta parties, in hopes of being good friends on and off the court. The boys put in hard work and dedication during every practice to develop new skills and help improve their old ones and because of this, this contributed to the teams desire to never give up and their desire to win.

Girls' Basketball

Girls basketball is always a good time for every student who attends their games. This year the girls got very close with the help of having, as we call them, pasta parties at restaurants such as Red Rose or even at some of the girls' houses. Every once in a while the girls also go to Friendly's after their games to celebrate, and on occasion are joined by the boys' basketball team. This year the team held a pink game in honor of one of our students Justin Lingenberg who was recently diagnosed with cancer to show him he is not alone and they will be with him through his fight.

The team's goal each year is to make it to playoffs and with the bond this team has along with all of their hard work they achieved this goal. Along their way they had some challenges but were able to overcome them. The girls also played a tough game against the one and only rivals of the West Springfield Terriers, which the girls were able to beat in a close game on the Terriers territory. They were all very proud of their victory along with everyone else. This year was one the girls will never forget.

Each game the girls hold hands during the national anthem to show that they're all in the game together.

Ice Hockey

Who doesn't love a good physical sport of hockey? Bet you won't find many people that will tell you they don't like hockey especially the students here at Agawam High School. Each year is different from the last and even though we may not have made it to TD Garden like we had in the past. We still have the good physicality of teams in the past, and the power to never give up on each other and always put up a good fight.

Agawam hockey brings out the bond the students share because of this fun, exciting atmosphere the players exert on the ice to always keep the fans cheering for more. Seniors Nicholas Frigo, Steven Grasso, Adam Mazza, and Anthony Passerini will be missed by everyone continuing on their hockey career for all the hard work they've put into the team each year. Hopefully next year the boys will do incredible things and continue to never give up not only on each other, but on the great attitudes they have for what they do.

Boys' indoor track started off on the right foot; literally. The first week of practice everyone was working hard and in it to win it. Although their season didn't end off with as many wins as hoped, they still instilled their Brownie spirit when performing at their utmost athletic ability. The most important lessons learned from this sport according to the team is to always "put in 100% at practice to do better in a meet, you get what you put in." Coach Pryce and Coach Brittney are highly respected by their athletes, especially by Adam Krafcik who became the one and only Agawam Varsity Indoor Track Captain this 2017-2018 season. The coaches are said to be motivators and "expect a lot out of you," pushing their athletes to be better each and every time they reach an event.

The sport is not stipend; with multiple events to choose from, everyone has an event to work on. From shot put, high jump, hurdles, long jump, and other running events. The team is always improving and helping each other whether they are on the same event or not: "each year we keep getting better than the last, and hopefully next year is just like this but improved."

Bus rides will definitely always be the highlight of everyones season.

"This season everyone got better with the work they put in." ~ Zachary Dion

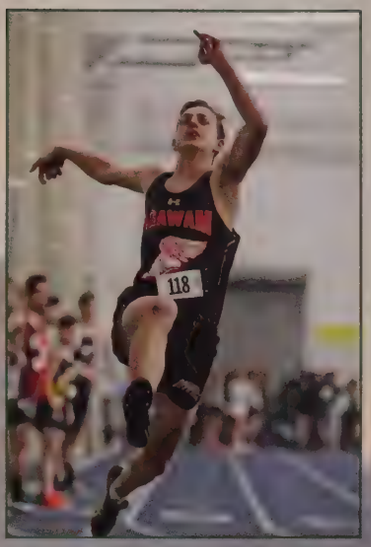

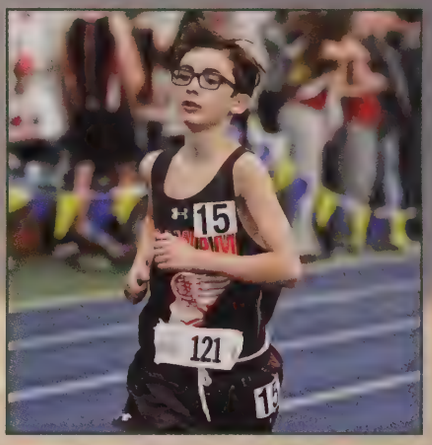

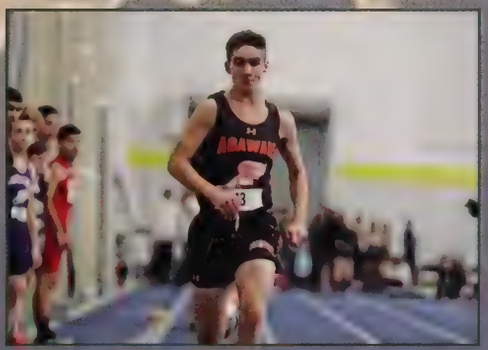

"This year being captain allowed me to become closer with my coaches."
~ Adam Krafcik

"Most memorable moment is being able to compete with my sister."

The Girl's Indoor Track Team had a very good season this year with a record of 8-4. However, only one of their losses was to a league opponent, because of this they tied for a league championship with Chicopee Comp. Following this they placed ninth in PVIAC Championships out of the twenty-two teams in the competition. Capitalizing on success again by placing eighteenth in the Division II State Championships out of the forty-four teams in competition.

Coach Pryce is very happy with the performance of the girls' indoor track team this year with so many of its athletes being underclassmen. He hopes this taste of success will drive them for the years to come. He also notes the unique occurrence that the girls who compete in outdoor track as well will have a rollover effect of captains who bond and perfect their leadership capabilities in the spring. This will roll over into winter and they will hopefully have a solid leadership to fill in their loss of several seniors who were the backbones of training and examples to many of the girls on how to compete in their events.

The Agawam Boy's Varsity Ski Team achieved a solid record in their 2018 season. Consistency in their scores and placement made for a satisfying year on the slopes. With few seniors compared to newcomers on the team this season, it was especially impressive to see the team maintain such good scores. The seniors are sad to go but glad to be passing the future years off to such hopeful members. The members say their jokes and friendly nature with each other is what keeps them on top.

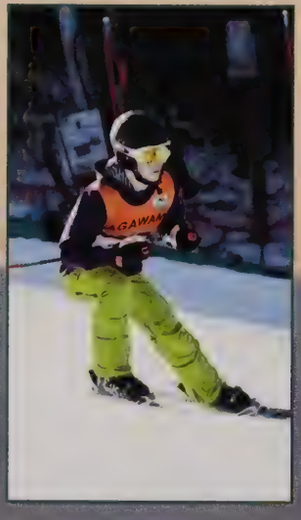

The races at Berkshire East were "highly competitive and fast paced" with the other teams being tough to beat. However, the Agawam Boy's Ski Team held their own and never gave up! The team looks for motivated new members to come and join in on the always fun and active experience. Boys who are fierce competitors and fans of winter sports fall in love with the sport. With the snow piling up this year, the Boy's Varsity Skiers continue to shred through it!

The Agawam Girls' Varsity Ski Team performed very well in their highly anticipated 2018 season! The girls were super encouraging towards one another, which ultimately led to their success as a whole. Everyone agreed that the love for skiing and fun they had was the best part of their season. Coaches Sam Lemanski and Mike Gonet said every member was proud of their races at Berkshire East. This year two members even qualified for states at Wachusett, Camille Aloisi and Alia Godek!

The seniors on the team are sad to leave their ski team days behind once states are over, but are happy to have ended on a fantastic note. The fast-paced competition focused environment is what draws new members each year. Any girl excited by speed and pushing themselves to the limit is perfectly suited for this activity. Winter may be freezing in New England, but they sure bring the heat on the Girls' Varsity Ski Team!

The Agawam High Boys' Swim Team started the season off with a splash; four straight wins in a row against challengers from Chicopee High and Springfield Central. Though they suffered a heartbreaking series of losses, no swimmer gave in, and they focused on reaching that finish line.

The boys practice with the girls' swim team over at the Agawam Junior High School. There, coached by Ron Wheat, the swimmers perfect technique in strokes such as freestyle, butterfly, and backstroke all to prepare for their next competition. Be their opponents from Northampton or Monson, these guys push it to the limit during every race and always aim to set personal records. As the swimmers are competing, you can hear loud shouts of encouragement from their teammates on the pool deck. Outside of the pool, the boys swim team kicks back at pasta parties and spends free time bonding with teammates.

Reaching towards that record time.

No hanging on the lane lines, guys!

The girls' swim team had some rough meets this winter, but that never stopped them from making the best of the experience with teamwork every competition brought to the table. These athletes matched up against some of the toughest competitors in Western Mass; West Springfield, Chicopee Comp, and Springfield Central to name a few. After competition, a "swimmer of the meet" is chosen by captains. These athletes are celebrated and commended by their teammates for their hard work and determination during difficult races.

As senior Captain Bella Hastings says, "the girls share a familial bond." They band together to bake brownies for the opposition during home meets, and never forget to chant and cheer for their team members to keep the energy up. The boys' and girls' teams also team up to create a blooper reel of swim team blunders to enjoy at the end of the year banquet.

Top form on the freestyle.

"We're going to get Agawam Wrestling back on the map and show everyone we're here to stay," said Coach Ramos kicking off the start of the season. Team-wise, they were unstoppable. With excellent coaches, superior managers, and all around great athletes, the team dominated not only the Western Mass tournament having Sophomore Harrison Mendrala sweep the Western Mass Title for 145, but also the State Championship with Thomas Caracciolo and Antonio Ramos placing 8th along with Harrison placing 4th. The team also had a first place finish at Chicopee Comp, ending Sabis' undefeated season on January 27, 2018. Senior Captain, Kyle Ma says, "It was the best season of my wrestling career. The team basically was my second family and I'm glad that I was able to spend my last season with these guys." Head Coach Ramos and assistant coaches Abdullah, Mendrala, Cabrera, and Saba were role models and the teams top supporters who pushed them through every match and encouraged them to go harder in every aspect of wrestling whether it was practice, meet, or tournament.

Through every take down, pin, near fall, and last minute wins, the coaches, along with the wrestlers were by each others side and showed how Agawam wrestlers get down on the mats and how hard work is shown in every match.

Hitting the road!

At last! The end of the road. After twelve years--fifteen if you're counting pre-school and kindergarten--the Class of 2018 has ended their adventures through the Agawam Public Schools. It's a time of unbound excitement and untamed anxiety. We've been guided along our journey through life thus far, but now it's time for us to draw up our own maps and venture off on our own. The thrill of the unknown is also what intimidates us the most, but in the end you'll be hard-pressed to find a single Senior who isn't just glad that high school's over.

After all these years of traveling these same roads in our town, it's time to hit the highways and journey farther in life than any of us have ever imagined. Good luck to all!

Class History

Our journey through Agawam High School began in the autumn of 2014. After a measly year of being "top dogs" of the junior high school, we were forced back down to the bottom of the barrel as Freshmen. If you were unlucky enough to already have a reputation amongst the upperclassmen, you may have gotten "marked"--literally, with a marker by a Senior. Hopefully no one tricked you into buying an elevator pass, or into trying to find the hidden pool! Freshmen year isn't just one big running joke, though: it was the first time we really got the chance to stand on our own two feet. We broke away from the college-themed team system in 8th grade to be completely independent. With our pick of classes and weekly events, we finally were able to carve out a school-year experience that suited us. We made an impressive first showing at Pep Rally, and then toughed it out in the snow for the Thanksgiving Game to support our football team against Westside. That year, we elected Jake Wieners as our Class President, Benjamin Vyce as our Vice President ("Vyce for Vice"), Nicole Mercadante as our Secretary, and Grace Rinaldi as our Treasurer.

The journey continued into our Sophomore year in 2015 through 2016. We were visited by Shakespeare and Company who performed the heart-wrenching Shakespearean tragedy "Macbeth," which we were all studying at the time in our English classes. Many of us scrambled to order our customized Class Rings to commemorate our time at Agawam High School eternally in platinum. We sold Class of 2018 t-shirts in preparation for Pep Rally, many of which have stuck around in our closets all these years later. Our football team made it all the way to the Western Mass finals, only losing in the last 10 seconds to Chicopee Comp.It was announced that our athletic fields would be receiving upgrades, as well as our locker rooms and gym bathrooms, though the construction wouldn't be started until the summer. Tragically, on January 10, 2016, our beloved faculty member Andy Pac passed away suddenly. The whole school, and the community at large, came together to support his family and mourn his loss. At the end of the year, we sat through three Drunk Driving presentations that left a lasting impression on all of us who were gearing up to acquire our licenses. That year, we re-elected Jake Wieners and Ben Vyce as our President and Vice-President, and Nicole Mercadante and Grace Rinaldi as Secretary and Treasurer (who switched roles that year!)

We picked up speed in our Junior Year, from 2016 through 2017. We returned in the fall to find that construction had been delayed due to the discovery of asbestos (in a school build in 1956? No way.) So, we were unable to host any home games on the football field, nor were we able to change for gym, for the first few weeks of school. This affected the Performing Arts as well, as gym classes were relocated to the auditorium in the meantime, which meant that classes that normally use the stage during the day were unable to. We hosted a Car Wash and a "Giraffe-ify" fundraiser to raise money for our class (Mr. Rowley dressed up like a giraffe like a day). As always, we killed it at Pep Rally, and this year we were able to bring our all for our first Powder Puff game. For many of us, that spring we attended our first ever prom, which was Parisian themed. Poetry Out Loud was held for the first time at the school, which was a smashing success. That year, Shane's Foundation sponsored guest speaker Chris Herren to talk to us about the dangers of drug abuse ("I'll light you up!"). When we weren't at school events, AP classes, SAT and ACT testing, college tours, and more ensured that we were always kept busy. That year, we elected Sadie Parrotta as our President, Matthew Rowe as our Vice-President, Aviella Abramchuck as our Treasurer, and Katerina Fenney as our Secretary.

And so, we've finally reached our destination. Senior year has held no shortage of excitement! We started the year off with a bang, with the first ever Senior Picnic. We held yet another Car Wash and costume contest fundraiser--this year, Mr. Schoorens dressed as a penguin. We dominated in the Powder Puff game over the Juniors. The Pep Rally lit up as we raced past the other classes in the bleachers as we made our grand entrance. A colorful ensemble of us let loose at Kid Party. We FINALLY won the Wacky Olympics! Shakespeare and Company visited us once again, this time performing a modernized version of "A Midsummer's Night Dream." We scheduled TWO Senior Trips this year to both Martha's Vineyard and the traditional High Meadows. About one-hundred and seventy students in our class received Academic A rewards. These are just the brightest highlights of the year--to delve into every single pit-stop along the way that made this adventure so worthwhile would take up much more than a two-page spread.

Our last first day of high school. Our last Spirit Week. Our last Pep Rally. Our last set of midterms, and our last set of finals. Our last sports seasons. Our last plays. Our last concerts. The last time we'll see many of the people that we've known our whole lives.

It's been a wild ride. There have been plenty of bumps in the road, and we've all dealt with our fair share of pot-holes. But this journey has given us the chance to witness so many beautiful sunrises, too. The people we've met, the things we've learned, and all that we've accomplished over these four years has made this a true adventure. May the Class of 2018 continue on their journey, and embark on a new trip to wherever we decide to go from here!

The Sachem

Members: Isabella Brothers, Lauren Blackak, Amber Fillion, Karli James, Cassandra Jones, Sadie Parrotta, Nicholas Rempp, Sarah Ruel

Adviser: Mrs. Lori Weyant

D period. Room 68. It was the place to be. Fingers flying over keyboards, papers out of one set of hands and into another, ideas flying, landing on paper, and becoming the 2018 Sachem Yearbook. The brilliancy and enthusiasm provided by each member of the Sachem Staff, headed by Chief Editor Sadie Parrotta, have contributed to the development of our personal experiences collaborating on this book. Fitting with our theme, we feel that composing and creating the yearbook has allowed us to grow as people and to expand our presence in the community. The sheer volume of work and time these seniors have dedicated to the yearbook is far beyond any words of appreciation we can give. The complete overhaul of the typical concepts and designs was a major project that each staff member had a say in, and many of the included photos, writings, and stories shared were collected through the outside efforts of these hardworking students. Big thanks to the 2018 Sachem Staff for making this project possible!

"Working on the 2017-2018 Yearbook completely changed my Senior year experience. I've never been one who ever felt inclined to go to sports games, but the need for Yearbook candids finally gave me the motivation, and I ended up meeting great people and making heartwarming memories as a result. I'm lucky to have some of the best memories I have captured on my camera--friends embracing, bright smiling faces, great triumphs, and simple moments of camaraderie. Thank you to Mrs. Weyant for dedicating so much of your time to helping us every step of the way, and thank you to my partner in crime, CJ, for all of the Dunkin Donut excursions and late nights stressing over deadlines together. Couldn't have done it without you, man."

~ Sadie Parrotta

"Thank the good lord above for Sadie Parrotta. Without Sadie's leadership and dedication, none of this year's book would have been possible, and we definitely would not have had the same goofy energy that got us all through the year. This process was an incredible experience all the way through and I can't wait to never type this many words ever again."

~ Cassandra Jones

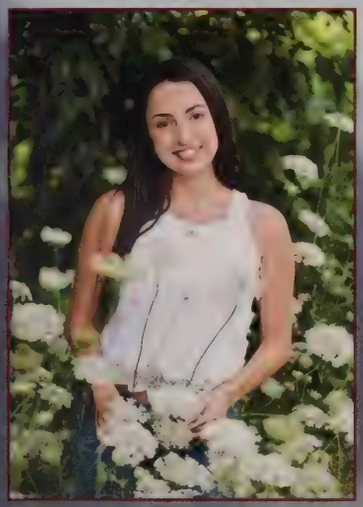

"Working on the 2017-2018 Yearbook was a great experience. I met amazing people, we all bonded greatly and worked very well together. I wouldn't want to change anything that I've learned from this group of people. This learning experience helped me develop new skills that I thought I never had and improve old ones that I forgot about. I enjoyed being apart of creating my own 2018 Senior yearbook. I wish the best to the entire yearbook staff and hope they do great things. Lastly, I thank Mrs. Weyant for helping everyone and making this possible."

~ Alexis Ralph

Yearbook Staff

"The 2018 Yearbook was one like no other: the staff worked diligently to preserve memories and create something special we will have to last a lifetime. Having the opportunity to work on something that we will always have to cherish will be an experience I will never forget; meeting and talking with all sorts of student athletes, club members, and teachers made everything worthwhile. Composing this yearbook the way we all envisioned it was the perfect ending to an amazing senior year."

~ Amber Fillion

"Being part of the making of my 2018 senior yearbook has been such a great experience for me and I couldn't have been happier to collaborate with all of the amazing people who made this yearbook as great as it is."

~ Lauren Blackak

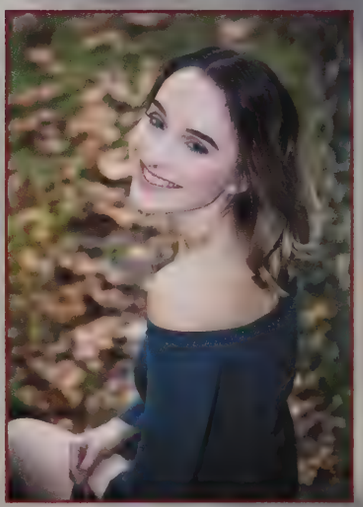

"Coming together with other students in my grade to make a yearbook of all of our favorite memories and designing something we will all always remember was one of the most fun things I have ever done. I loved having the opportunity to put together something so unique for our final year."

~ Karli James

"It was a really unique and fulfilling experience to be able to put together memories from such an important time in life, and be a part of personalizing them, so it will always feel like it was all just yesterday."

~ Isabella Brothers

"Words aren't my "thing", so here's some inspirational quotes about life: "If it doesn't challenge you, it doesn't change you." ~ Fred Devito "Some people are so poor, all they have is money." ~ Unknown, and finally "Life begins at the end of your comfort zone." ~ Neale Donald Walsch"

~ Nicholas Rempp

"Working in the Yearbook class was very entertaining. It made me realize that in twenty years, when I look back at this book, I'll know that I helped make it and it'll bring back lots of memories."

Dylan Barry with his grandfather's old car.

Our first true taste of independence comes with our drivers' licenses. No longer must we wait at the library for our parents to pick us up; no more bumming rides from our upperclassmen friends; no more SCHOOL BUS! Once Junior year rolls around, we pack into driving school classrooms and fill our schedules with on-roads. It's a pain, but well worth it when you realize the power you have to drive to Dunkin' whenever you want. (But with great power comes great responsibility, right?) We sit in our cars in the parking lot most mornings, listening to music while we try to mentally prepare for the school day ahead. We cruise around town, blaring our radios and honking our horns as we whiz past our friends. We have long, deep talks as we wind through empty roads at night. We travel to new places, embarking on adventures over the course of a weekend or less. Whether you're the proud owner of a broken-down beater or a shiny new Nissan, there's something very special about our first cars.

With all this in mind, we have created a "roadtrip play-list" of songs that we feel encapsulate the feelings of adolescence, and the feelings that we have about the years ahead once we've hit the road and have started off on our own, brand new journeys after high school. Please enjoy...

"RIP Nissy, forever in our hearts."

"The first 30 minutes I bought this thing, I was out in Ware... not five minutes down the road, I get pulled over and the truck gets towed 'cause it's got a bad plate. My dad and I had to walk 2 hours through 3 towns until my mom came to pick us up."

Senior Picnic

Hey guys, show us your best poses!

Our four-year students have earned the right to have a little fun here at AHS! In the first week of school, us hardworking seniors were surprised with an hour and a half of fun outside- minimal supervision, no guided activities, just the opportunity to let loose and be together. We went out to the football field where pizza was served and sports equipment and games were available. Under a blue sky and shining sun, this rare social event brought out beaming smiles on everyone's faces. This Senior Picnic was for sure a huge SUCCESS- hopefully it'll become a tradition!

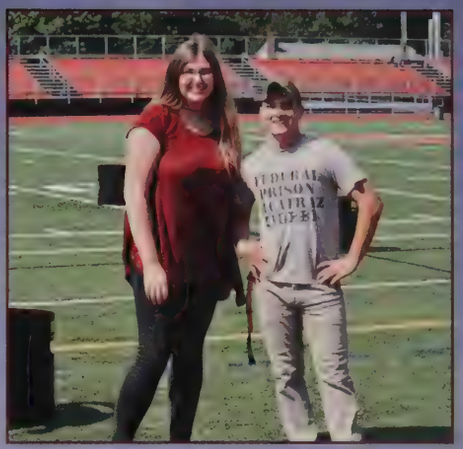

"Bring it on, Jake!"

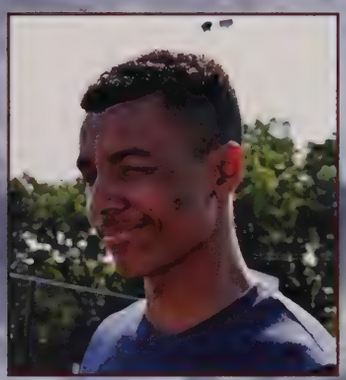

Hey Sadie!

Mike Caracciolo, Jake White, and Teal Savoury getting ready for wrestling season as seen above!

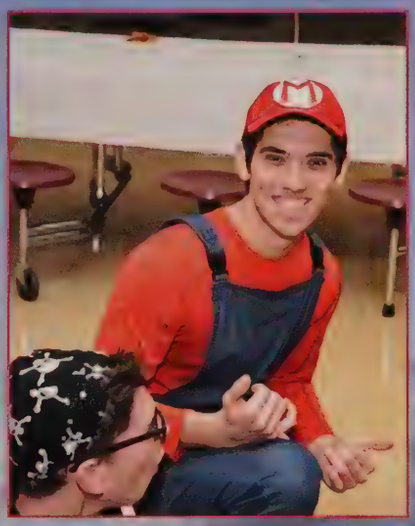

Senior Kid Party

We're growing up fast--so it's good to have events like Kid Party to slow it all down and bring back the children in all of us? Every year the seniors get together and have a "Kid Party," as we call it, where we dress up like iconic characters from our childhood and play games for prizes. There's always a variety of costumes we show up in--from the Scooby Doo Gang, to Lilo and Stitch, to American Girl Dolls--but there's no two costumes that are quite alike, which makes this even event more unique and creative. This year we had an awesome DJ, Jon O'Neil, who played the perfect songs to dance to, lots of tasty pizza, and spectacular drinks. With the great tunes came tons of fun games like musical chairs, donut eating contests, and even limbo competitions. Us seniors would like to thank everyone who made this night one to remember and for letting us be childlike and carefree again.

What's better than watching our dreams dance the night away?!

How fast do you think a high schooler can eat a donut?

How low can you go Nikki?

Lilo and Stitch made a cute little appearance for everyone.

Just because they do it on TV doesn't mean it will work when you try it at home!

Looks like this lifeguard's too busy dancing to save lives tonight--guess you'll see it all at AHS!

Finally.

In loving memory of
Daria Stebenkova

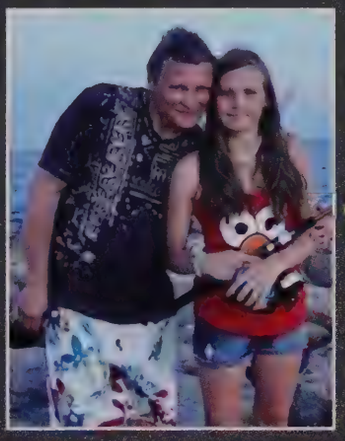

"Daria, your joy, laughter, and kindness always lifted up our lives. You have left such a sweet imprint on my life. There are no words to describe how I long for you to be with us. But there are also no words to describe how happy I am that you are with the One I long to be with. Can't wait to see your beautiful face in Heaven, my sweet sister."
~ Katie, sister

"Our whole family loves Dasha dearly and misses her. She is always in our hearts, we think and we pray for her every day. Her name means victory and a gift from God. Daria is very beautiful from the inside out. She is very kind, intelligent, strong, pure and bright. She was an obedient daughter and a loyal friend. We are not saying goodbye to our beautiful daughter, but we are waiting to see her again."
~ Father and Mother

"Never had I thought one person could affect my life so much in so many ways. Daria you were one of a kind. My best friend. My favorite person. Always there for me. Thank you for all that you did. I love you always and forever in my heart."
~ Karina, friend

"Daria was my best friend, she was what you call one in a million, she was the only one that was up to doing anything with you. She was the friend you can call and she would be over as soon as she could. She was brave, she made me grow and helped me through my problems. And for that I thank her. I thank her for being so good to me and caring for me. I thank her for being who she truly is."
~ Eva, friend

"Daria, I miss you and love you so much. I can't wait till the day we meet again. I miss your company and reminisce all the memories with you. I miss your smart, humble and understanding nature. You are always in my heart and mind my dearest sister. All my love, Anastasiya."
~ Anastasiya, sister

"Daria was the most sincere and loving person I have known, being our baby sister in the family. I would come home and absolutely every single time she would embrace me with the biggest hug and a huge smile on her face, telling me that she missed me. :) She had a pure heart and genuine care for everyone she came across. I would drive her home from church or school and we would yell songs in the car. Those were probably my favorite moments with her. We would cry from laughing in the car because of how ridiculous our singing would be. Our family adored her--I want people to know that. Each and every one of her siblings saw her kind heart. She was our baby sister and we will forever be grateful for the years we had with her."
~ Mariya, sister

"Daria, you were the most adventurous person I have ever met. So full of joy and ambition to uncover all ends of the earth. I have yet to meet another soul like you, pure, full of love and adventure. You taught me how to be courageous, to seek more than just what was given in life, and most importantly, how to simply be happy. You are missed everyday, the impact you made in my life will live on as long as I do. Thank you for the long nights filled with laughter, the days filled with adventure, and memories filled with happiness. I hope you're watching when we walk across the stage to get our diplomas, because without you I don't think I could ever say,
'I made it.'"
~ Kristina and Adriana, friends

"Dear Daria, during our time together you gave me an invaluable gift. In that time you showed me the world through yours eyes and I have never stopped seeing it that way. You saw the kindness, the beauty and complexity of everything and everyone you met. All things were wonderful through you, and you showed me this. You showed me this kindness, this beauty, and this complexity. The world through your eyes was something I could never unsee nor ever want to unsee. The world is beautiful through your eyes and I will never be able to thank you for being in my life. There is nothing in this world as wonderful and lovely as you are. Love Nicolas."

Senior Salutes...

So far on our journey through life, it has been our families that have led the way, carving out a path for us to follow so that we don't get lost along the way. Now, it's our time to map out our own destinies...but we don't simply forget where we've been as we venture forward. We are grateful for the affection and care we've received growing up from the people who love us most, and this section is a testament to that tenderness. The Senior Salutes are farewell postcards from our families before we venture off into the great wide world, with photo mementos attached to remember the good times by. Thank you to all the generous people who purchased a Senior Salute--you are the ones who have transformed us into the capable young adults we are today!

Dylan Christy

To My First Love,
I am so beyond happy for you as you start your journey. You have given me so much happiness and you are going to conquer the world. I wish you nothing but the best.

Love,
Mom

Michael Urban

It's finally your turn! Enjoy your next adventure!

Love,

"My wish for you
Is that this life becomes all that you want it to
Your dreams stay big, your worries stay small
You never need to carry more than you can hold
And while you're out there gettin' where you're gettin' to
I hope you know somebody loves you
And wants the same things too
Yeah, this is my wish" ~Rascal Flatts

Sadie Parrotta

Sadie,
You have been a joy to watch since birth. You are an original, brilliant thinker. Your Dad is so proud of you. Thank you for being a great kid. You have given my life meaning by being your parent. You're also a much better driver than me, thank God for that. It all went by too fast.

I love you,
Dad

Sadie,
You will make an amazing life, you have always been amazing! Thank you for being an incredible daughter, unbelievable sister, and tremendous friend. You're beautiful qualities have left us and will lead you on a fantastic journey. We will be by your side, loving and supporting you every step of the way taking every opportunity to tell you and show you how much we love you forever.

Love,
Mom

Sadie has been the biggest inspiration to me since I was a baby. I'm heartbroken to see her leave. I will miss seeing her every day, but I'll think of her 24/7.

Paige Hollander

Paige,
Our jack of all trades, we are so proud and impressed by the young woman you have become. You have developed such an impressive sense of awareness about who you are and who you want to be, and you have surrounded yourself with amazing people that share that awareness. You bring such an inspired energy to your view of the world, and we know you will make an enormous difference in this world because you know your value and seek the value in others. Stay true to you. You are such a blessing to us.

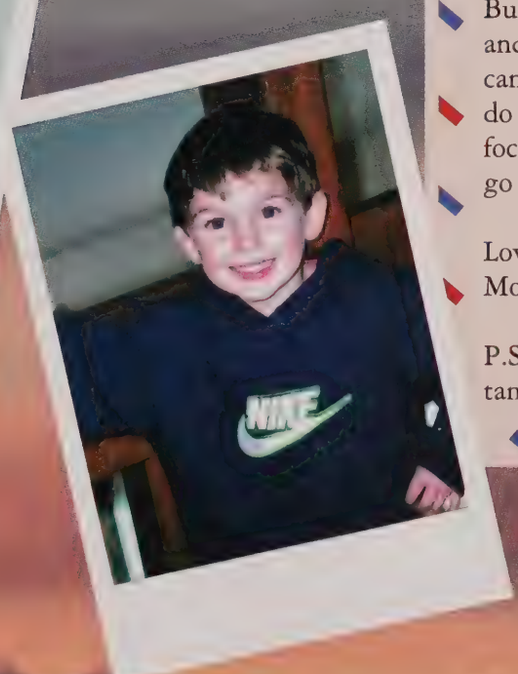

Love,
Mom and Dad

Nick Casamento

Nick,
Those first five years of nonstop meltdowns had us all wondering how you'd turn out. But you grew into someone so patient, kind, and smart. We couldn't be more proud of you and cannot wait to see all the wonderful things you'll do with your life. Work hard in college, stay focused and true to who you are. We know you'll go so far.

Love,
Mom, Kayla, and Larry

P.S. I'd go back in a heartbeat and do it all again--tantrums and all.

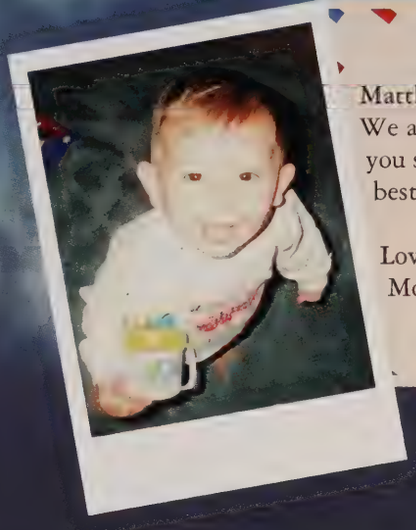

Jessica Santaniello

Firstly, and most inconsequentially: an enormous "thank you" to Mrs. Weyant. Whenever we struggled with the Lifetouch website (which was often), she would always drop whatever she was doing to help us navigate its features. If we had a vision for a layout, she'd be there to help us bring it to life. She spent hours upon hours upon HOURS of her free time editing our pages, scrutinizing over our errors in spelling and grammar. No matter how many names we misspelled, she always kept patient with us, and we are GRATEFUL. Thank you, Mrs. Weyant, for supporting us through every step of the process. We couldn't have done it without you.

Thank you, Mrs. Debbie Cohen, from Lifetouch Publishing for always having our back. Any questions we had, or advice we sought, or time we needed, Debbie was there to provide. Right from the start, when she brought her bag of mini pretzels and all of her great insight, she's been there for us.

Thank you to the staff of G&B Photography for photographing so many of our beautiful students' faces! Besides portraits, they also captured so many triumphant moments at our sports games and special events.

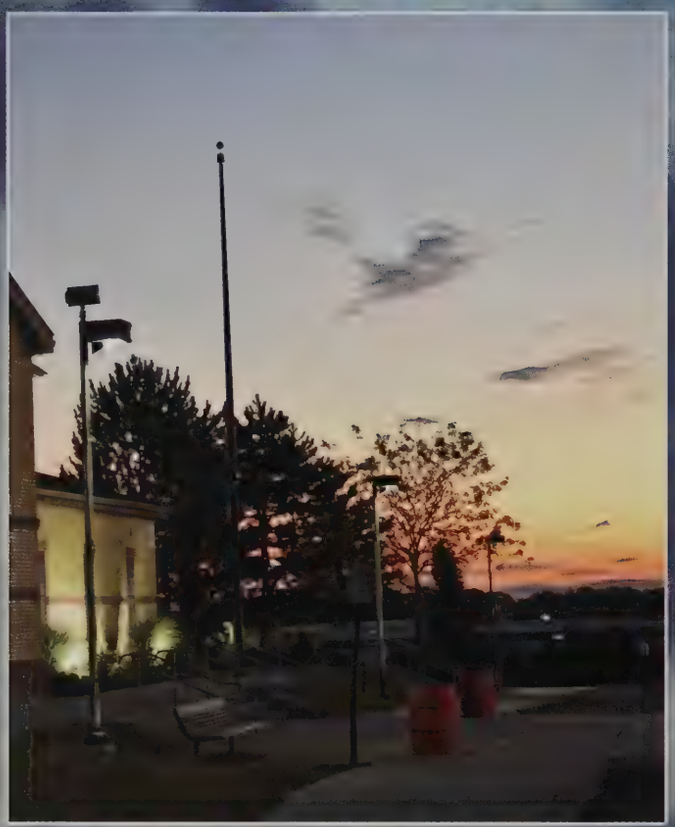

The secretaries in the main office--Mrs. Couture, Mrs. Roberts, and Mrs. Barrows--were wonderful to us, too! If we needed to know where a student was during the day for an interview or photo, we could always run down to the main office and find out! They didn't mind us any time we dropped by their office to deliver letters to teachers' mailboxes, and brought their best and brightest smile to their group photo. Thank you, ladies!

We'd also like to thank the athletic office staff, who were incredibly helpful while we were working on the sports sections. How else could we have gotten hundreds of students and coaches names, not to mention seasonal records?

Thank you to all the local businesses, associations, teams, and families that purchased ads! Your support helps to keep the cost of the book down!

Without all of you, the creation of this book wouldn't have been possible (or, at least, would have been a heck-of-a-lot harder!)

2018 Remembered...

Cya' Mayor Cohen

A farewell was sent to Former Mayor Richard Cohen as the new mayoral candidates arose during the summer of the 2018 election. Famous for their signs, Agawam was flooded with advertisements for Jimmy Cichetti, Vak Chonmany and Bill Sapelli. When it came down to it, there were two men left standing prepared to take on this new position that has been held by Cohen for years. Former Superintendent Bill Sapelli with his "Proven Leadership" slogan took the vote by a landslide of almost 69%. The future of Agawam has never looked so bright. As Mayor Sapelli said at his victory party on election night, "We're going to be courteous, we're going to be respectful, and we're going to get things done," adding, "We have to bring unity to government in Agawam. We have to work together."

Finally a Verdict!

In previous years, Agawam's graduating girls wore white and the boys wore brown. In 2017, there was a debate on what would be gender neutral and inclusive for all. Therefore, the Class of 2017 wore a black cap and gown. The Class of 2018 will be the first class with the new orange and brown cap and gowns. For 2018 graduates only, the district decided they will take on the $8 cost of the stoles, about $2,400 for approximately 300 seniors. Superintendent Lemanski decided along with the school committee that the stoles will be paid for with funds from the high school's graduation expenses. The cost includes customizing each stole with the school logo and year of graduation.

April, 1992

This year, the most infamous unsolved hometown homicide was cracked; there was justice to be served for Agawam's own Lisa Ziegert. It's been 25 years since Ziegert was kidnapped and murdered, and there hasn't been a lead since. Her story has appeared on multiple headlines, with years of silence, no confessions and heartache. A new DNA breakthrough, however, led police to more advanced testing which eventually surfaced her killer; September of 2017 was the month of relief, and a face was put to this horrible crime. Lisa Ziegert will forever live in the hearts of Agawam's residents, especially her peer's and loved ones'.

Colleen 2018

Abbie Hoban and her Colleen Court Meagan Arslanian, Kristen Fellion, Amber Fillion, and Erin Consedine have been extremely busy throughout the "Irish Season" with different events and festivities. The girls all competed for the title of Agawam's Colleen on February 7, 2018 to express their pride in their Irish heritage. Abbie and her court hope to be strong role models for the youth of Agawam and to encourage families to hold onto traditions and make them last past their lifetimes. This year, the girls are proud to present their first place award for their parade float's Irish decor.

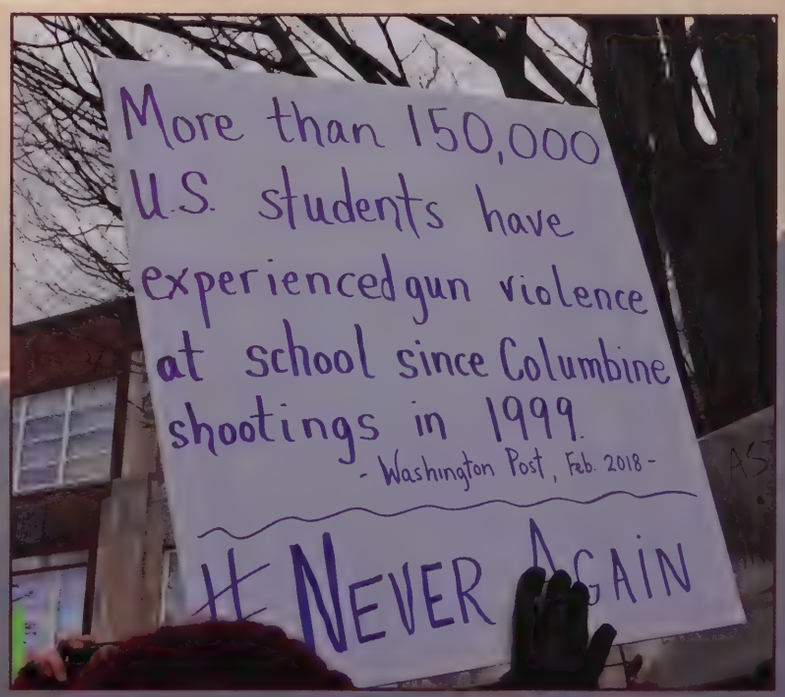

Until 2024

An astronomical phenomenon happened this summer; a total solar eclipse. A total solar eclipse occurs when the New Moon comes between the Sun and Earth and casts the darkest part of its shadow, the umbra, on Earth. The nation was captivated by this for the first time since 1918; viewers from Salem, Oregon to Charleston, South Carolina were all in its path of totality. Keep your special eclipse sunglasses at the ready; the total solar eclipse is something we will see again in April 2024.

Enough is Enough

Through the past decades, domestic terrorism has been on the rise. On October 1, 2017 at a concert in Las Vegas, a mass shooting occurred resulting in 59 fatalities, and over 500 people hurt. It was the deadliest shooting in modern American History. The nation will forever remember those who were wounded or lost.

Education Without Fear: On February 14, 2018 one of the worst high school massacres took place in Parkland, Florida at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School. Seventeen innocent lives were taken from the community; leaving classmates, teachers, family and educators adrift in fear. This sparked a revolution against gun related violence, and Education Without Fear became a pivotal movement for the youth of America. Agawam High School Stands with Parkland.
